Eagleton Taking Case Directly to McGovern

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With top party officials apparently on signal urging him to step down, Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton meets with Sen. George S. McGovern tonight "to make my case" to stay on the Democratic ticket.

The two running mates flew with Senate colleagues in separate Air Force planes to Louisiana for the funeral of Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La. After returning, they were to meet for the first time since Eagleton disclosed six days ago he has been hospitalized three times for psychiatric reasons.

"It's my intention to stay in the race," Eagleton said Sunday. "I'm going to make my case to him, which I think is a good case." The vice presidential nominee said his candidacy had met with a favorable response from the people.

Democratic National Chairman Jean Westwood and Vice Chairman Basil Paterson urged Eagleton to resign so the campaign could focus on issues instead of personalities. Immediately after Mrs. Westwood, a McGovern selection as chairman, made the statement on nationwide television, she went to the presidential nominee's home for several hours of talks.

Campaign manager Gary Hart, political director Frank Mankiewicz and adviser John Douglas also were at the McGovern home for the six hours of afternoon talks. All refused to comment to reporters waiting outside when they left.

McGovern said during his return to Washington Saturday night after two weeks in the Black Hills that a decision on whether Eagleton would remain on the ticket would be a "mutual one." But he added: "He's the one that's going to, in the final analysis, have to make the decision."

Eagleton was nominated by the Democratic National Convention and theoretically could resist any suggestion from the McGovern camp to resign. But as a practical matter, political observers said it would be almost impossible for him to resist the pressure from a presidential candidate at the top of the ticket and from the party hierarchy.

McGovern amendment would cut President's military spending request and Sen. Javits calls Eagleton "first rate senator." Stories on page 22.

"I would have to weigh it," Eagleton replied when asked what he would do if McGovern asked him to leave the ticket. "Certainly I'll listen respectfully and attentively to what it is, and I'll weigh his words. But I won't in advance prejudice what the result will be, or say what my predetermined, irrevocable decision will be."

Mrs. Westwood said that if Eagleton were to decide to stay on the ticket, "we will go ahead and support him, of course." Asked if this would be difficult, she replied "yes, but I will still do it."

Paterson said the Democratic National Committee would be able to meet within 10 days to choose a successor.

At first McGovern expressed full support of Eagleton after he made his disclosure in a joint news conference in the Black Hills last Tuesday. But during the weekend, staff members and McGovern himself seemed to be opening the door for a possible Eagleton withdrawal.

It also seemed almost inconceivable that Mrs. Westwood and Paterson would urge Eagleton to step down without clearing it in advance with the McGovern camp.

McGovern, in his midnight news conference aboard a jetliner, praised Eagleton as being a skillful campaigner and also one of the best new senators in the last three or four years. But he said the issue involved "a combination of things."

"Does it in any way impair his capacity of leadership? Does it arouse anxiety in a public that is already nervous and uptight about its national leadership? Does it damage our chances of winning the election?"

"These are all things I frankly cannot answer," McGovern said.

Meanwhile, declaring that he "couldn't feel safe" with Sen. Thomas Eagleton as vice president, Queens Democratic leader Matthew J. Troy has said he will leave the McGovern campaign and not vote next November if Eagleton stays on the Democratic ticket.

"I have nine kids," Troy, who came out in favor of McGovern almost a year ago, said Sunday. "I don't want to see them destroyed because some unstable person might become president."

British Soldiers Smash Barricaded Strongholds

LONDONDERRY, Northern Ireland (AP) — British troops smashed down IRA strongholds of the Irish Republic early today and encountered almost no resistance. But the IRA struck back later with bombs that killed at least six civilians.

Striking at 4 a.m., 13,000 British soldiers smashed down IRA barricades with tanks converted to bulldozers and took possession of Catholic areas of Londonderry, Belfast, Lurgan, Armagh Portadown, Coalisland and Dungannon.

By noon, reports were coming in of bombings in Londonderry and other towns.

In Claudy, 12 miles southeast of Londonderry, six persons were killed when bombs planted in three cars exploded in the main street.

Army officers believed most of the IRA gunmen had gone underground in the countryside or fled across the border to the Irish Republic.

Three hours after the troops past: "We'll rise again and you'll know about it." Whitelaw said the purpose of the operation was to open up the areas previously closed to British security forces, "to enable the security forces to move freely through all areas and so protect the whole community."

The troops also went into the "no go" areas Protestant militants had established in Belfast in protest against the IRA barricades. But there the members of the Protestant Ulster Defense Association began pulling down their roadblocks as soon as the troops appeared.

The army's main target was "Free Derry"—the Bogside and Creggan districts of Londonderry, ringed by concrete and iron barricades, where the IRA has held unchallenged military sway for more than a year.

At 4 a.m., 1,500 troops with armored cars and tanks equipped as bulldozers thrust into the Bogside and began tearing down barricades.

Children taunted the soldiers with cries of "Pigs!" "English bastards," and "Leave us alone."

Outside a church a crowd of women who had attended Mass shouted at a convoy roaring

The soldiers, their faces blackened and in full combat gear, met only slight resistance as the "Free Derry siren" sounded an invasion alert.

The army said it shot one gunman and a gasoline bomber but found no bodies.

The assault had been expected since late Sunday when Whitelaw announced the army was poised for "substantial activity" and warned civilians to keep off the streets.

The IRA in Londonderry was outnumbered 50 to 1 by the troops and had not been expected to fight back. The army's progress into the guerrilla citadel was impeded only briefly by mines and gelignite booby traps on the streets.

Squads raided some houses, and the military said they found stores of food, money, medical equipment and propaganda tracts.

The army said nearly all of Britain's 21,000 troops in Northern Ireland took part in the operation.

Suit Against Reilly Dismissed

By HUGH REYNOLDS

NEW YORK CITY United States District Court Justice Lloyd F. MacMahon has dismissed charges in a $10 million law suit filed by Franz Muller of Rosendale against Ulster Town Justice Arthur A. Reilly, the Town of Ulster and the State of New York.

But at the same time, Justice MacMahon refused to grant summary judgement against the other defendants in the case, State Troopers David Wachtel, William E. Wiedemann, Rosendale Town Constable Robert Doyno, the Town of Rosendale and Arthur Champion. The judge ordered those defendants to stand trial although a trial date was not set.

The plaintiff in the case is Franz J. Muller, 34, a former Town of Rosendale constable. Muller claimed that his health was affected and his constitutional rights violated as a result of his Dec. 9, 1970 arrest for grand larceny. Muller, then a town constable, was arrested by Wiedemann and Wachtel for allegedly stealing a bulldozer from a construction site in the town of Ulster valued at $7,500 and owned by Champion, a resident of Rosendale.

According to Judge MacMahon's review of the case,

Muller was arraigned before Justice Reilly shortly after his arrest, but a preliminary hearing was not held until June 2, 1971 "allegedly because of a conspiracy plaintiff (Muller) claims existed among the defendants."

"At the close of the preliminary hearing before Judge Reilly, plaintiff was held to answer on the charge before the grand jury which subsequently returned a no bill against him. Plaintiff then instituted this action for violation of his civil rights and demanded $10 million in compensatory and punitive damages," Judge MacMahon wrote.

In his decision, rendered on July 24, involving Judge Reilly, Judge MacMahon wrote, we the state and the town of Ulster, consider first the state of New York's motion to dismiss. The 11th Amendment prohibits a federal court from entertaining an action by a private citizen against a state unless the state waives its immunity. This immunity extends to suits against the state under the Civil Rights Act. Since there is nothing in the case before us to indicate that New York State has waived its immunity, the action against it must be dismissed.

"By the same token, Judge Reilly, who under common law is immune from liability for acts performed within his judicial discretion, is also immune under the Civil Rights Act," Judge MacMahon wrote. "Since the plaintiff makes no allegation that Judge Reilly committed any acts beyond his judicial discretion the action must be dismissed against him."

"The defendant, the town of Ulster," Judge MacMahon said, "moves for dismissal on the grounds that the complaint fails to state a claim against it upon which relief may be granted. The law is clear that a municipal corporation such as the town of Ulster is not a person within the meaning of the Civil Rights Act. Therefore, the instant complaint does not state a claim against the town of Ulster upon which relief can be granted and it must be dismissed."

Muller has another law suit pending as a result of his arrest, that one for $32.8 million against a host of Rosendale officials. Named in that suit, and upon the plaintiff and Rosendale Town Supervisor Gerald R. Defeliceis, Councilman Karl Strobel, Magistrate Raymond LeFever, Constables William McKay and James Warnott, Mayor Carl Grassi, Town Republican Chairman Ernest Hopper and Ernest Kelder, Louis Defeliceis and Shane Crosby, town residents at the time.

Muller charged that those officials named in the case acted as part of "a political machine to suppress criticism, suppress freedom of comment and freedom of action for the advancement of good government and the fair and proper administration of justice and to prevent the disclosure of information, all by bringing undue and extreme pressure against others."

Ulster, Orange, Dutchess Counties

Three Drowning Victims

By WALTER S. CLARK

MILTON Accidental drownings were reported over the weekend by authorities in Ulster, Orange and Dutchess counties.

State Police reported a 7-year-old Brooklyn boy was the victim of a drowning that occurred Sunday afternoon in a lake at the Schantz Memorial Park, to drowning.

The victim of the Orange County drowning which occurred Saturday afternoon was identified by Newburgh Town Police investigators as 14-year-old Barry Sherman, son of life guards on duty at the major and Mrs. Donald Sherman later he was missed by his parents who were visiting in the area. Police were notified and the Marlboro Rescue Squad was summoned. Searchers found the body in about four feet of water. Efforts to revive him were unsuccessful. The youth was taken to St. Luke's Hospital in Newburgh where he was pronounced dead on arrival.

Orange County Coroner Edward J. Pekar said after an investigation with troopers that the death was accidental due to drowning.

The victim of the Orange County drowning which occurred Saturday afternoon was identified by Newburgh Town Police investigators as 14-year-old Barry Sherman, son of life guards on duty at the major and Mrs. Donald Sherman later he was missed by his parents who were visiting in the area. Police were notified and the Marlboro Rescue Squad was summoned. Searchers found the body in about four Newburgh, and Jack Steinard, whose address was not known. Police Sergeant R. M. Rowe said the Sherman boy apparently disappeared below the surface about half way between shore and a floating dock.

The other boys spread the alarm and police were summoned. The Orange Lake Volunteer Fire Company responded to a call. Daniel Leghorn, a volunteer fireman recovered the boy's body in about eight feet of water within 20 minutes after he disappeared in the lake.

Authorities said there were no private lake at the time of the mishap. A fireman said the victim had been wearing a diving mask, which was found a short distance from the body. Hospital by the Arlington Fire Department ambulance. He was pronounced dead on arrival.

Meanwhile, Poughkeepsie Town Police Chief Charles Schade reported that 41-year-old Robert Meisner of Cream Street, Town of Hyde Park, drowned in the Wappinger Creek near White Bridge in that township shortly after 3 p.m., when he reportedly went to aid two young girls who were experiencing trouble in the strong current of the creek.

Schade said the two girls were brought to shore safely by other swimmers, but the current swept Meisner under. His body was recovered in a short time by other bathers. Meisner was rushed to Vassar Hospital by the Arlington Fire Department ambulance. He was pronounced dead on arrival.

Historic Elm Tree Grows in Stone Ridge

A Stone Ridge elm tree believed to be several hundred years old has been tagged "historic" by the Elm Research Institute of Waldwick, N. J. Frederic N. Misner of Tongore Road, owner of the property where the tree shades an 18th century Dutch stone house, surveys the giant elm which is approximately 120 feet high and measures 18 feet in circumference at the base. The designating plaque puts planting time of the tree in the 1800s. Expert care through the year's has prevented the fatal Dutch Elm disease that has carried away almost all other elms in the area. WHITA Scores Charter, Hearing

KINGSTON — The We've Had It Taxpayers Association (WHITA) of Ulster County has asked County Legislature Chairman Peter J. Savago to move the Aug. 2 public hearing on the proposed county charter out of the County Office Building.

Mrs. Alice Tipp, WHITA president, in a letter to Savago asked that the hearing be held in a site such as the auditorium of the George Washington School.

"This site has a larger seating capacity, more parking facilities, and is more centrally located," she said. Mrs. Tipp said that at a previous charter hearing in the County Office Building there wasn't enough room for everyone to be seated.

"They had people backed up out into the hall," she said. "The George Washington School Auditorium seats at least 250, and everyone would be able to be seated," concluded Mrs. Tipp.

Meanwhile the Southern Ulster County committee of the We've Had It Taxpayers Association (WHITA) has gone on record as opposing the proposed county charter. The committee took its action recently after hearing two supervisors speak against the charter.

Paltz Administrative Vice President Accepts Health Service Position

NEW PALTZ — M. Douglas Stafford, administrative vice president at the State University College at New Paltz, has accepted a position as senior partner with Family Health Services, a Washington, D.C. based consulting firm specializing in health care.

Stafford begins his assignment with the firm Aug. 21. His primary responsibilities will be to design and implement management procedures for 120 rural health clinics located in 38 states.

The clinics were established under recently enacted federal legislation known as the National Health Corps Act. The bill provides Federal support of medical clinics where currently there are no medical facilities available.

Stafford assumed his duties at New Paltz as administrative vice president in Feb. 1970.

Lawrence A. Quilty, chairman of the college council, said, "Stafford was one of the steady influences on the campus, and one of the most effective administrative officers I've ever seen." Quilty termed Stafford's move "a great loss to the college," but added that he was pleased for the administrative vice president.

Said Dr. John J. Neumaier, president of the college, of Stafford, "Mr. Stafford has demonstrated the genuine desire to serve faculty, students, and staff of the college and has been able to effect improvements under severe budget limitations in those areas in which the campus has had some of its greatest needs."

While at New Paltz, Stafford had supervisory responsibility over business affairs, college facilities, computer facilities, maintenance, and security. Prior to his appointment at New Paltz, Stafford was director of administration for the Peace Corps from 1966 to 1969; earlier he served as deputy director of the Corps' program in Liberia and Ghana.

Ulster, Sullivan Committee Named

STONE RIDGE

A committee has been named for Ulster and Sullivan Counties to study local manpower needs and assist the regional Ancillary Manpower Planning Board for the Mid-Hudson sector.

The appointments were made by Dr. George B. Erbstein, president of Ulster County Community College, who is chairman of the Ancillary Manpower Planning Board. The Board has jurisdiction over seven counties including Ulster, Sullivan, Dutchess, Orange, Putnam, Rockland and Westchester.

"This committee will be most helpful in determining local manpower needs, priorities and funding recommendations for federally financed programs," said Dr. Erbstein. "It will help this Ancillary Board in assisting the State Manpower Planning Council in affording employment opportunities to individuals suffering from cultural or physical disadvantages."

The committee chairman, appointed by Dr. Erbstein, is Herbert Petz, assistant to the director of personnel for Kingston IBM, and the co-chairman is Peter Schwalenberg, district superintendent of schools in Sullivan County.

The Ulster County members of the committee include Peter J. Savago, New Paltz, chairman of the Ulster County Legislature; Michael Aronica, director of vocational education of Ulster County BOCES; Louis Grimaldi, executive director of the Ulster County Community Action Committee; and James Billups, Community Programs and Neighborhood Youth Corps director for the Ulster County YMCA.

Also Paul Treanor, chairman of Social Agencies for the Kingston Children's Home; R.C. Josh Randall, administrator for the Public Emergency Employment program in Ulster County; Robert A. Bearman, assistant to Administrator Randall; Everett Hodge, president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in Kingston; the Rev. John Van Ness, New Paltz, president of the Ulster County Migrant Workers Program of the National Council of Churches; Joseph Maher, employment service manager of the New York State Employment Office in Kingston; Leonard Kelly, branch manager of the Hudson Valley Opportunities Industrialization Center in Kingston; Herbert Heckler, Ulster County Planning director; and William Palmer, cooperative extension agent of the Ulster County Agricultural Extension Agency.

The Sullivan County members of the committee include Jack Crandall, Director of the County's Department of Economic Development; Howard Grant, director of the Sullivan County Social Services Department; Mrs. Yvonne Comissiong, executive director of the Neighborhood Youth Corp. in Liberty; and Robert Fontana, manager of the New York State Department of Labor's Division of Employment in Monticello.

Our Energy Crisis—Part 9

Talk about change; we've seen a lot of it...

For the last eight weeks we've described various aspects of the growing fuel and energy shortage in the United States. Now we'd like to tell you how the energy crisis is affecting Central Hudson and all of our customers in the Mid-Hudson Valley.

Natural Gas. Because of the nationwide gas shortage, we have restricted the sale of natural gas since early 1971. At the present time we can provide service to our existing customers, and to new residential customers who request it.

Like other gas utilities, we do not produce gas; we purchase it from pipeline suppliers. The amount of gas available from our three suppliers, and from a new propane-air gas facility recently installed in Poughkeepsie, should enable us to meet the needs of our customers at least through the winter of 1973-1974.

But because it may be several years before our suppliers can provide us — and other utilities — with additional gas, we are evaluating several other ways to increase our supply of gas over the longer term.

Electric Power. Three years ago we started construction on the Roseton electric generating plant. Late this year, the first of two 600,000 kilowatt generating units will begin operating. The other in the spring of next year.

The Roseton plant, which is being built at a cost of $243,000,000 by Central Hudson and two neighboring electric companies, will be a major source of power for the people in the Mid-Hudson Valley, and elsewhere in the state. But building power plants is only part of the answer to meeting the steadily increasing use of electricity. Power plants burn oil, gas, coal and nuclear fuels to generate electricity. And, as we have described during the last eight weeks, these fuels are becoming scarce, or their use is being restricted by environmental requirements.

Looking back over the years, providing gas and electric service was comparatively easy. But as you can see, things have changed.

Parade Ends Vols Convention

ELLENVILLE largest-ever convention parade. More than 3,000 persons lined streets in Ellenville Saturday to view the 37th Annual Ulster County Volunteer Fireman's Association Parade.

Forty fire companies, 21 musical units and 20 ladies auxiliaries were featured in the Uniforms (over 15 members) and its Ladies Auxiliary unit was awarded the trophy for Best Appearance.

The Kingston Indians were named the Best Senior Drum Corps; the Queens Village Queens of Warwick, N.Y., were judged the Best Junior Drum

Corps. Kimble Hose and Scoresby Hose, Hook and Ladder Companies of Ellenville and the Cragmoor Fire

Department were also among those receiving trophies. The parade capped the association's annual convention, which began Thursday night with a banquet at the Tamarack Lodge Hotel in Ellenville. Three hundred members and guests attended the event.

On Friday, the association held its annual business meeting and election of officers. John A. Snyder of the Centerville Fire Co. was elected president for the 1972-73 term; Dominik Costantino of Highland Hose Co. was elected first vice-president. Fred C. Harder of Kingston was elected to his 30th term as secretary of the organization; Henry DuBois was elected to his 29th term as treasurer. Merrill Williams, immediate past-president of the association was elected a five-year director.

A number of guests were present at the meeting, including Justice Lawrence A. Cooke of Monticello; Andrew T. Pomarico, past-president of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Fireman's Association; Walter Lesser, first vice-president of the Hudson Valley Volunteer Fireman's Association; and Paul VanKeuren, first vice-president of the Dutchess County Volunteer Fireman's Association.

Life members of the county association were also honored, including Edward Heany, Miller Locke, C. John Bechtold and Emmett Aldrich of Kingston; John L. Crosby of the Town of Ulster; George Majestic of Gardiner; Albert Fox Jr. of Olivebridge; Walter Bailey of Rifton; John A. Snyder of Centerville and Oscar Hanel of Chichester.

Bell, Rolison Get High Marks From State Conservative Party

High marks for their voting records in the State legislature have been given to Assemblyman H. Clark Bell and State Sen. Jay P. Rolison by the Conservative Party of New York State.

Based on 20 different roll call votes in the Assembly and 17 in the State Senate, the New York State Legislature scored a conservative rating of 78.1 per cent for its 1972 session while Bell and Rolison each scored 93.7 per cent.

Republican-conservative Assemblyman Edwyn E. Mason

County's new 40th District, was also rated high by the Conservatives with a score of 94.1 per cent.

Of the 22 legislators receiving 50 per cent or below, described by Conservatives as "extremely liberal," there were 21 Democrats and only one Republican, Assemblywoman Constance Cook, Republican-Liberal of Ithaca.

The total Assembly coverage is 76.8 per cent. The Republican Assembly average including two GOP-endorsed Conservatives is 90.1 per cent and the Democratic Assembly average is 63.5 per cent. The total Senate average is 79.5 per cent with the GOP average at 85.6 per cent and the Democratic Senate average at 73.4 per cent.

J. Daniel Mahoney, Conservative Party state chairman, commenting on the ratings said: "We view with some pride the accomplishments of the 1972 Legislature, reflected by the generally conservative rating of the Legislature as a whole. We believe that the impact of our Conservative Party-endorsed 19 state senators and 44 assemblymen and two Republican-endorsed Conservative Assemblymen has been of considerable moment and bespeaks a spirit of cooperation in the Legislature that we know will continue to grow and that can only be rebound to the benefit of the people of the State of New York."

County Recycling Drive... Most Successful to Date

KINGSTON More than 100 tons of newspaper and magazines, 52 tons of glass and 850 pounds of aluminum were collected during the county-wide recycling drives in June and July, according to announcement made by Mrs. Shirley Kobran, chairman of the Environmental Task Force.

"It's a far cry from the first paper drive in March, 1971," said Mrs. Kobran, "when we were so elated to collect 9 1/2 tons of paper. The people of the county are proving their interest in saving natural resources, and conserving space in their town landfills, most of which are in crisis condition."

The recent recycling drive, held the weekends of June 24 and 25 and July 8 and 9, marked the first time, according to Mrs. Kobran, that private groups accepted the responsibility for certain sections of the drive. The Hudson Valley Philharmonic, for instance, coordinated the collection of aluminum while the Friends of the Indians manned one of the paper trucks.

The next coordinated drive for newspaper, magazines, glass and aluminum will be held the weekend of September 16 and 17, with major depots to be located in Rosendale, Kingston, Stone Ridge, Saugerties and Woodstock. Sub-depots will be set up in Port Ewen, the Town of Olive, Hurley and West Hurley.

"There are many other towns in Ulster County that could create sub-depots," said Mrs. Kobran. "We urge people residing there to help this effort by contacting their Town Supervisor and Town Highway Superintendent, and start planning now."

Mrs. Kobran also announced that Robert Bearman has been named chairman of the Recycling Committee of the Environmental Task Force, and will be responsible for coordinating future drives.

Mrs. Kobran noted that paper and magazines, junk mail, scrap paper, mimeo paper and stationary (but not carbon paper or chemically treated paper) are acceptable for recycling. It should be tied in 25-pound bundles, or placed in bags or cartons. All types of glass containers and bottles should be cleaned, and metal rings should be removed.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices opened firm with the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks fractionally higher in slow trading today.

Advances held a small lead over declines on the New York Stock Exchange.

Brokers said the market is caught between signs of a strongly improving economy with favorable second quarter earnings and fears about the economic policies of Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern, the international monetary situation and the Vietnam War.

Among active issues on the Big Board were Boise Cascade, up 1/4 at 10 1/2; Occidental Petroleum, off 1/4 at 15 1/2; Trans World Airlines, off 1/4 at 49 1/2; and TRW, up 1/4 at 33 1/2.

The stock market turned in an uninspired performance Friday as the Dow Jones average of 30 industrial stocks edged down .15 to 926.70. Big Board volume was 13.05 million shares.

Women Stop Traffic, Wear Nothing But Smiles

LONDON (UPI)—A group of young women wearing nothing but big smiles stopped traffic Saturday as they strolled down Oxford Street. Then they tried to visit Prime Minister Edward Heath and got arrested.

Drug Raid In Rhinebeck

RHINECLIFF—Rhinebeck State Police, after intensive investigation, conducted a narcotics raid early Saturday morning at a residence in Rhinecliff which resulted in the arrest of three residents on multiple charges.

John Thomas Maher, 21, of Orchard Street, Rhinecliff, was charged with illegal possession of a firearm—a sawed-off shotgun—a felony; criminal possession of a dangerous drug sixth degree, and criminal possession of a narcotic implement—a hypodermic instrument.

Also arrested and charged with criminal possession of a dangerous drug sixth degree and criminal possession of a narcotic implement were Michael Joseph Maher, 19, and an unidentified 18-year-old female, both of the same Orchard Street address.

Arraigned before Town of Rhinebeck Justice Herman Tietjen, John Maher was remanded to Dutchess County Jail in lieu of $8,000 bail. Michael Maher and the unidentified girl were placed in Dutchess County Jail in lieu of $3,000 bail each. All three are scheduled to reappear in court on Thursday, August 3.

Confiscated in the raid under the direction of B.C.I. investigators were a sawed-off shotgun, hypodermic syringes, and narcotic implements and drugs, according to State Police.

Hundreds of shoppers along Oxford Street, King's Road and Portobello Road gaped in amazement as the girls popped from their red bus apparently chartered from the city transport company.

One older woman muttered "disgraceful," but most other pedestrians seemed too dumbfounded for words.

"I have heard about permissive Britain, but this exceeded my wildest dreams," one foreign visitor said. "People are simply flabbergasted."

The police apparently agreed with this assessment. When the girls tried to end their forays with a visit to 10 Downing Street, officers grabbed the lot and arrested them.

A spokesman for the group said it was a stunt to promote a rock and roll festival at Wembley next Saturday. During the show, he said the girls would dance naked on stage.

Before that, a police spokesman said all would have to appear in a local court to answer charges of insulting behaviour.

Also arrested and charged with criminal possession of a dangerous drug sixth degree and criminal possession of a narcotic implement were Michael Joseph Maher, 19, and an unidentified 18-year-old female, both of the same Orchard Street address.

Two Charged With Burglary

TOWN OF ESOPUS—Two persons sought by the sheriff's department for about a week were arrested shortly before 10 p.m. Sunday in a motel on Route 9W in the Town of Ulster and charged with burglary third degree.

First Sergeant Donald Policastro identified the defendants as Vincent Paul Sessler, 21, of Box 62, Town of Esopus, and Susan Carter, 18, of 2 Golf Terrace. They were arraigned before Town Justice Robert Jordan and both pleaded innocent. They were committed to the county jail in lieu of $5,000 bail each pending a reappearance in court at 8 p.m. today.

Policastro said the arrests were made by the sheriff's burglary patrol, Deputies Arthur Nersesian and Willard Bound who conducted the investigation of a burglary at the home of Douglas Barley on Linderman Avenue.

According to Policastro the defendants allegedly took a social security check and personal checks from the Barley home, and they allegedly had other checks belonging to persons identified only as Wolf and Hummel. The two were accused of cashing checks in the amount of $1,000. Policastro said.

The investigation is being continued and additional charges may be lodged against Sessler and the young woman, police said.

Greene Mishap Fatal to Woman

CATSKILL—A 61-year-old Brooklyn woman was killed and her son was critically injured at 12:20 p.m. Sunday when the car in which they were riding skidded out of control on Mewry Road, Town of Greenville, Greene County, and overturned.

Leeds State Police identified the woman as Mrs. Lillian Mariano of Metropolitan Avenue, Brooklyn. Coroner Lee Cunningham ruled the death as accidental and said the woman died of internal bleeding.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her son, Nicholas, 26, of Brooklyn, who was south-bound on the highway when the vehicle skidded at the intersection of County Route 38 and flipped over. Mariano was taken to Albany Medical Center Hospital suffering fractures of the arms and nose and multiple other injuries. He was listed in critical condition.

Trooper Douglas H. Lane and BCI Investigator James J. Salmon investigated.

City Burglaries Are Reported

KINGSTON—Burglaries at two city schools and the residence of Family Court Judge Hugh R. Elwyn at 335 Pearl Street, were under investigation today by detectives.

A janitor at Kingston High School notified police at 9 p.m. Saturday that the school had been entered through an unlocked side door. A telephone was ripped from the wall of a classroom and broken. Phonograph records and other items were strewn around the room and police found liquid wax had been poured on the floor of the cafeteria.

While detectives were investigating that entry they discovered that the Vocational School building also had been entered through an unlocked door. Items in a classroom were thrown around the floor. Nothing of value was reported missing from either school.

Jeffrey Elwyn, son of Judge and Mrs. Elwyn notified police at 4:45 p.m. Sunday that his parents home had been entered. A glass was smashed from a door leading to the kitchen and the lock was moved.

Police said they found blood smeared on the kitchen floor and on the rear porch. Authorities theorized that the would-be burglar apparently suffered serious lacerations caused by broken glass and then he fled without taking anything of value. The house was not ransacked.

GIANT IS DEAD — Eddie Carmel, a nine-foot giant, weighing 500 pounds, died in a New York hospital from where a spokesman said was believed to be "related to a glandular problem." He was 36. Carmel is shown trying to get into a Renault. (UPI Telephoto).

Tax Freeze

Is Proposed

By Nirenberg

ELLENVILLE

A freeze on land and school taxes for senior citizens is being proposed by Democratic County Legislator Alex J. Nirenberg of District 10.

Having filed legislation calling for such a freeze, Nirenberg said, "Our people living on social security and fixed pensions cannot and should not have to cope with sky-rocketing land and school taxes."

"These are the very same people who worked and struggled so hard to keep our country going during the lean years of the great depression of the 1930's. It is tragic to see that now, when times are so much better and affluent, they have become the victims of the great inflation and sky-rocketing taxes since they are living on small fixed incomes."

"When we see our elderly citizens forced to sell their homes because they can't pay their continually increasing taxes, we must recognize that we, in government, are failing them. We must take this bull by the horns to solve this dilemma."

Four-Year-Old

Killed in

Tractor Mishap

MILLERTON, N.Y. (AP) — A 4-year-old boy was crushed to death under a rear wheel of a tractor driven by his 8-year-old brother on a Columbia County farm, police reported today.

The mishap occurred Friday when Andrew Grebner tumbled from the side of the tractor on which he was a passenger and was run over. The boy's older brother was towing a loaded haywagon with the tractor.

Andrew was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Grebner of rural Boston Corners.

Drug Addicts—

Get Treatment

NEW YORK (AP) — Drug addicts on the city welfare rolls face an immediate cutoff in aid unless they can provide written certification that they are in an approved drug treatment program.

Human Resources Administrator Jule M. Sugarman announced the new crackdown Sunday in an effort to curb the growing number of addicts on relief in the aid-to-disabled category.

He said the city also plans to bar aid to addicts who were formerly on welfare and reapply unless they can prove that they have been participating in an approved treatment program for 30 days.

The new rules were designed to insure "that all addicts receiving welfare money are also receiving treatment," Sugarman said. "Our main concern is not so much to remove them from welfare as it is to help them kick the drug habit."

He said his department has found 26,493 addicts are currently receiving welfare. Each will be required to recertify his treatment status by returning a letter that will be mailed soon.

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, JULY 31, 1972

WASHINGTON — With enormous fanfare last March, the Thai government announced it had burned 26 tons of opium. The pyre was hailed in Washington and Bangkok as evidence that Thailand at last was getting serious about cutting off the flow of heroin to the U.S.

"This quantity of opium, if refined into heroin," crowed the State Department to Congress, "could have supplied the need of one-half the U.S. market for one year." The value of the opium fed to the bonfire was estimated in the hundreds of millions.

Now, the CIA and other federal agencies have quietly informed Washington that something besides opium went up in that bonfire. The real story is that Thailand, and indirectly the U.S., were hornsogged into believing that 26 tons of opium were burned, when, in fact, most of it was cheap fodder.

The tale of duplicity begins in November, 1971, when the drug-smuggling remnants of Nationalist Chinese troops along the Thai-Burma-Laos border heard the Thai government wanted to buy up some opium for a public demonstration.

The aging Nationalist generals weren't born yesterday. Having lived by their wits for 20 years, they saw an opportunity to make a killing.

Instead of loading raw opium, they pushed 100 mules with fodder, other plant matter, chemicals, and about 20 per cent opium.

The caravans made their way down from the remote border areas of Kachin and Shan to the northern drug counter of Chiang Mai where the burning was to take place.

As one mule after another was unburdened, the Thais paid off the Chinese — in part, probably, with U.S. aid funds. In all, the cagy dope peddlers passed off five tons of opium as 26 tons and pocketed more than $2 million from the fantastic hoax.

Either through corruption or stupidity, the Thai officials failed to test the huge mounds of "opium" before they soaked it with gasoline and put it to the torch.

Only as the smell of burning molasses wafted through Chiang Mai did the Thais suspect they had been had. Then, it was too late to do anything but cover up their goof.

And cover up they did. They hastily recruited gangs of workers to bury the "hundreds of millions of dollars" worth of fodder and opium ashes.

Lives Lost

Two years ago we reported that thousands of American lives could have been saved in Vietnam if the Army had developed adequate head and body armor.

The brass hats began a furious search for an answer to our charges but found the position, in the words of one general, "too weak to merit a rebuttal."

Disturbed over our disclosures, Sen. Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., R-Md., requested a General Accounting Office investigation. The GAO report, not yet released to the public, backs us completely.

Citing a "preliminary analysis" of 2,703 Army and 627 Marine casualties, the report declares that "the Army's nylon vest did not significantly reduce casualties or deaths" and that "the helmet, used by both the Army and Marine Corps, gives marginal reduction of death from fragments but apparently no reduction in casualties."

The Marine Corps vest, in contrast, "gives good protection from fragments and lowers the probability of death from rifle fire."

In our original story, we alleged that American soldiers were still wearing a "steel pot" developed during World War II; that the helmet was unwieldy, ill-fitting and offered limited protection; and that the Army had strained to reduce the weight of GI gear but had failed to develop adequate armor.

Confirmed the GAO: "Preliminary information indicated that the program for developing helmets and vests to protect the combat soldier may not be receiving the high priority it deserves."

"Emphasis has been on reducing the weight of these items to lessen the total weight carried by the combat soldier... We believe immediate emphasis should be on requiring training in the use of helmets and vests, and on increasing ballistic protection."

Not only did the armor provide insufficient protection, we reported originally, but many lives had been lost because the GIs hadn't been trained to wear their battle gear.

Military authorities, in response, steadfastly insisted the helmet and vest were regularly worn. But the GAO, basing its conclusion upon the Army's own research, declared:

"If the Army vest was worn, about a 40 per cent decrease in wounds in protected areas could be anticipated against all fragmentation weapons and about a 55 per cent decrease against the M-26 hand grenade..."

Under identical heat, humidity, wind and cloud-cover conditions, the Marine Corps use of vests averaged 73.7 per cent while Army usage averaged only 16.1 per cent.

"We believe the Army's low use of the vest in Vietnam relates to a lack of training and emphasis on using it during combat. In contrast, the Marine Corps does use the vest in training and puts emphasis on its use during combat."

The report cited an Army objection that "costs, discomfort and administrative workload outweighed the benefits" of wearing armor in training.

Countered the GAO: "While the wearing of body armor obviously may not be comfortable and could create an administrative workload, the potential decrease in casualties, in our opinion, is overriding."

Jack Anderson Says

Thailand's Great Drug Hoax

Choose Your Weapon

Martin Nolan Says

Open Letter to Spiro

WASHINGTON — Dear Mr. Vice-President:

In the first place, congratulations. In the second, thanks.

After President Nixon said you deserved a four-year encore you told a publishers' group in Oregon that your attacks on the media were not intended "to be rancorous or bitter."

You added: "There is a place for the press and government to coexist with respect to each other and yet to maintain that vital and delicate adversary relationship that is so vital to the maintenance and preservation of a free society."

The statement was, excuse the expression, good news. Your recognition of a "vital and delicate adversary relationship" confirms a belief that you have mixed some principle with politics all along. It also strengthens my belief that your attacks have brought far more good than harm to that least challenged and least self-critical of American institutions, the press.

You've righted the balance so much that many ink-stained wretches are becoming narcissistic. (Thought you'd like that: sort of goes with "nattering nabobs of negativism.")

So O.K., if we can trade beams and notes without rancor or bitterness, let's look at how your dealings with the press illustrate how vital and delicate the relationship is.

In 1966 you were a hero to many of the people you denounced, including the editorial boards of the Washington Post and the Baltimore Sun. You accepted their praise of your liberalism without denial, including your strong leadership as Governor of Maryland and early backing of Gov. Nelson Rockefeller for President in 1966.

That tumultuous year changed a lot of attitudes, as you outlined in a candid session with a half-dozen of us in your suite at the Camelot Inn in Tulsa at the June, 1966, meeting of Republican governors.

You were "impressed," you said, at the volume of congratulatory mail after you chewed out black politicians in Baltimore after the riots there. "I've tried to be a liberal," you said as you twirled a bottle of Michelob in an ice bucket, "but, after a while, you've got to stop leading the people and start following them." Those words were hard to forget.

In 1968 you received a raw deal from the press in the "fat Jap" flap and you took offense. But you forgot that a vice-presidential candidate is often constitutionally comic relief. (Senator Muskie was an exception, partially because the top of his ticket — an incumbent V.P. — provided sufficient chuckles.)

As you know as well as anyone, the vice-presidency is a thorn of splendid humiliation. The President can't give you an important government job because you're the only man he can't easily fire.

So you must tread a fine line between dignity and political buffoonery. For your adversaries in the press it's no easier. After all, we often get high on adjectives, too.

While President Nixon wears his statesman's robes this year, your job will be to swing the scimitar. In that role, as you said in your Oregon speech, you have become "a symbol of what many in the media think a politician should not be."

That's true, because the experience of reporters often leads to the discovery of what makes people similar, not what divides them.

In the past you have been concerned that the press has not taken you seriously enough. That problem is over.

Your office has become more important because of political and actuarial trends leading to the White House. So maybe we won't find out this year whether you're leading the people or following them. Maybe it will be 1976. Or maybe at the end of your second term as President.

That would be in 1984. I'm ready if you are.

Yours truly,

Earthlike Mars

The thousands of photographs and scientific readings being relayed from Mariner 9, giving a detailed picture of our nearest planet, reveals Mars is much more earth-like than moonlike. While no evidence of Martian life has been revealed, the instruments and cameras trained on the planet have not discovered anything that precludes the possibilities of organic life there.

Four major areas of Mars have been identified by Harold Masursky of the U.S. Geological Survey: First, a series of recently active, possibly still active volcanoes, topped by afternoon cumulous clouds of water ice. Second, an area along the equator in which there are faults and rifts and an equatorial valley extending for thousands of miles, a three-mile deep floor similar to ocean spreading centers and a series of grand canyons, each with tributaries suggestive of water erosion.

The third area is made up of cratered terrains and smooth-floored basins resembling the impact basins of the moon; the fourth consists of smooth polar regions with overlying stacked plates, possibly heavily glaciated and depressed because of the weight of ice upon the underlying crust.

The temperature changes, the wind and dust storms, and above all the possible presence of liquid water, suggest that while Mars may not teem with life, it might have done so in past ages. The search for life will concentrate as much on fossils as on fauna and flora. The secret must be hidden in one or all of them.

ROTC Training

Most campus radicals and a few well-meaning people are against ROTC training in colleges. They must have reasons.

Recently we came across some interesting figures about what happens to at least some young people who have had ROTC training.

Of all college men, only four per cent have had ROTC training. From that four per cent comes approximately: 22 per cent of the men earning from $100,000 to $300,000 per year; 16 per cent of our Congressmen; and, 14 per cent of our governors.

Some typical examples are: D. C.

Burnham, president, Westinghouse Electric Company; William M. Allen, President, Boeing Company; Ellison L. Hazard, president, Continental Can Company; Senator John Sparkman, Alabama; Senator Barry Goldwater, Arizona; Senator Edward Brooke, Massachusetts; Representative Robert L. F. Sikes, Florida; Representative Hale Boggs, Louisiana; Representative Olin L. Teague, Texas; Dean Rusk, former Secretary of State, and Stanley H. Resor, Secretary of the Army.

Maybe ROTC leadership training isn't so bad after all.

DOLE REMAINS GOP CHAIRMAN—Chairman Robert J. Dole will stay on as Republican National Chairman after the party convention, President Nixon announced. He wants all members of the Cabinet, except Secretary of State Rogers and Secretary of Defense Laird, to join the campaign. Mr. Nixon is not rocking the boat.

INVITING BACKLASH — Betty Friedan, whose book "The Female Mystique" gave birth to the women's liberation movement, warns in an article in McCall's against male chauvinism. She adds that female sexism, or chauvinism that assumes moral or spiritual superiority, corrupts the movement and invites a backlash.

BERRY'S WORLD

George is in his element, now, with this being the year of 'the politics of discontent'!

Born With a Foot in His Mouth

Jim Bishop: Reporter

Sully was lumpy. He had heart, but his head had been through too many Waring mixers. He said he was 34, give or take a decade, and he fought as a welter. The body looked good and his feet were fast but when I saw him fight he was a sort of old redhead who could not get beyond the third round and to my knowledge, never saw a main event.

It wasn't Sully's fault that he irritated people. He was gifted with saying the wrong things. His mother once told me that Sully dropped out of the third grade of elementary school. She dressed for the movies one night and wore a print dress, a seven-dollar string of beads, and a pair of fake pearl earrings Sully had given her.

"How do I look?" she said. He looked up from his dinner. "Old," he said. His dad asked how Sully would like a punch in the nose. "Try the head," the fighter said. "If I catch one more on the nose, I'm going to have a nostril in each ear."

He courted a few girls — when he wasn't in training and — they said the same thing: "Get lost." His managers and trainers used the same expression. In the ring, he looked like a tiger, but he had an impediment in his reach.

Once in awhile, he became obsessed with the notion that God was watching disapprovingly. When these waves of punchiness were laid on him, Sully attended every church with an open door and a light inside.

He may be the only man who, on entering a synagogue, was handed a yarmulka and, once inside, removed it from his head out of respect. Sully didn't belong to any church, and I can't think of any which staged an all-out drive to convert Sully.

Once, in the middle of a proper Methodist service, he stood up and said he could raise money to pay the mortgage if the minister would go four rounds with him. There was a stunned silence, then he smiled sheepishly and said: "Don't worry, Rev. I'll let you stay the distance."

He was as punchy as a thimble of pineapple juice and a pint of booze, but he was happy with himself. When he found my home address, he never bothered to phone for an appointment. He rang the bell — day and night — walked in and offered to permit me to write his biography, in return for which Sully would give me 10 per cent of the royalties.

I fought manfully to resist the offer. Now that I am in the middle of this column, the thought occurs to me that he will stop at the house tomorrow and charge me for it, with the alternative option of driving me through a wall.

He button-holed an Irish priest outside a church once and said he had had a dream. Father gave Sully a heavy-lidded stare, because he wasn't sure what kind of a dream it might be.

"It was a beautiful dream, your honor," he said. "I was on a big white cloud and there were real mother-of-pearl gates and a sign over the top spelled Heaven." The priest closed his missal slowly. "In English?" he said. "What else?" Sully said. "If it's Jewish, I always think it spells kosher butche' shop."

"Proceed," the priest said wearily. Sully grinned. Not one tooth showed up. The place was lousy with angels flying around like a bunch of parakeets. I even got introduced to one of them. He studied his wellshined black shoes slyly. "I feel in love with one of them, judge — I mean, Rev."

"Interesting," the priest said. "I had always thought that angels were bodiless spirits..." "What?" "No boys, no girls." "Oh, no. This one was a beauty. She had a figure that would never quit." "I thought they looked like parakeets..." "Okay, big parakeets."

The priest was a victim of hypertension. He fished for a pill and swallowed it. "So?" "I proposed to this here angel and we decided to get married. In the dream, I mean." "Oh, yes. The dream. Did you?" "Did I what?" The priest's voice began to rise. "Get married!"

A few well-dressed parishioners looked at the pair. "Married?" Sully said. "I didn't know you Revs were allowed to get married." The priest looked up at a faraway cloud and rubbed his hair the wrong way, from back to front.

"I thought you said you wanted to marry this — uh — sexy angel." "Oh, that. Sure. We fell in love right away and for the first time in my life, the broad didn't say 'Get lost.'" "She must have had remarkable restraint."

"Take my word for it, she had everything." "Did you get married?" "Oh, no, Rev. your honor. We couldn't. Both of us looked all over Heaven and couldn't find a priest."

Sully didn't duck fast enough...

Film Program Is Planned

WEST SHOKAN

Three films on the importance of recycling will be shown through the efforts of the Town of Olive Environmental Conservation Committee and the Olive Summer recreation program.

One showing is scheduled Wednesday, Aug. 2, at 8 p.m. and another at the meeting of the Town of Olive Senior Citizens Thursday Aug. 3 at 1:30 p.m. Both programs will be presented at the Olive Free Library Community Room, West Shokan.

Ruth Hill, chairman of the town environmental conservation committee and Ron Pape, director of the summer recreation program coordinated the presentations.

The films, titled Clues, Gifts and The Great American Trash Can, tell the story of the scientific, but community oriented significance of the recycling of materials to both the community and the companies accepting the materials.

Plan Outing

In place of the regular meeting Friday, Aug. 4, the Marlborough Senior Citizens will have a trip to Hyde Park to visit the Franklin D. Roosevelt Estate and Vanderbilt Mansion. Those attending will meet at the Stone Ridge Reformed Church 9 a.m. and bring a picnic lunch. Anyone needing transportation may call Mildred Dales.

Clinic Scheduled

An immunization clinic sponsored by the Ulster County Health Department will be held at the Kriplebush Firehouse Tuesday, Aug. 8 from 12 noon to 1:30 p.m.

The clinics provide immunization against polio, whooping cough, diphtheria, tetanus, measles and rubella.

Barringer-Tozzi Wedding Announced

The Old Dutch Reformed Church on Huguenot Street, New Paltz, was the setting for the wedding of Laura Sue Barringer and Francis A. Tozzi. The Rev. Orville J. Hine officiated at the double ring ceremony. The Rev. Joseph Hickey assisted.

Traditional wedding selections were provided by Mrs. Arthur Kurtz with special selections, "How Great Thou Art" and "Because".

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Barringer of Springtown Road, Tillson. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Tozzi of Brookside Road, New Paltz.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. Her gown of white organza was fashioned with an empire bodice embellished with appliques of venise lace daisies jeweled with pearls. Matching trim accented the sheer illusion yoke, high neckline and short puffed sleeves. The gown featured a long extended train edged with daisies and appliques with lace and pearls. The triple-tiered silk illusion veil was attached to a stylized crown headpiece of silk and lace edged with pearls and featuring a single drop pearl. She carried a bouquet of white pompons.

Mrs. Lesley Rizzotto of Ohioville Road, Clintondale, was matron of honor for her sister. The bride chose for her a nylon dotted Swiss gown of pale pink applique with tiny flowers of deep pink and white. It featured a swoop neck bodice, short sleeves and fully gathered skirt accented by a pink satin sash. She wore a matching pink illusion shoulder length veil attached to a bow headpiece matching her gown. She carried a nosegay of pink pompons with pink ribbon streamers.

The other bridal attendants were Miss Sue Ellyn Lord of Novato, Cal. and Mrs. Susan Rybak of Whiteport Road, Kingston. They wore gowns of the same design as the honor attendant's in blue, and carried nosegays to match their gowns.

William Tozzi Jr. of Brookside Road, New Paltz served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Nicholas Tozzi, of Brookside Road, New Paltz, brother of the bridegroom, and Peter Rybak of Whiteport Road, Kingston.

The bride's parents entertained at a garden reception at the Old Fort, New Paltz. Organ music was provided by William Dunn cousin of the bride, and Mrs. Lesley Rizzotto, sister of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Rondout Valley High School and recently graduated as a certified executive secretary from Katharine Gibbs School. Her husband is an alumnus of New Paltz High School and is presently employed by F.A.S.A. Construction.

After a wedding trip to the Connecticut seashore, the couple will reside in New Paltz.

Eckert-Becker Nuptials Told

Announcement was made today of the wedding of Rosemarie Eckert, daughter of Vincent Eckert of 19 Oak Street, Kingston, and John J. Becker, RD 4, Box 225, Saugerties, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Becker of Pittsburgh, Pa.

The double ring wedding ceremony took place in St. Joseph's Church, Kingston. The Rev. Msgr. John J. O'Reilly of St. Joseph's Church, officiated. The Rev. Joseph G. Bailey, Clinton Avenue Methodist Church, assisted.

James Sweeney provided traditional wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an A-line gown of peau de satin with lace accenting the sides of the gown and hem of the skirt. The high neck of lace formed a bib affect. The gown was styled with a detachable tubular chapel train. Mrs. Becker wore a stylized headpiece which held her silk illusion veil. She carried a bouquet of spring daisies.

Mrs. Harold Cavagnaro, RD 4, Box 284B, Kingston, was matron of honor. Attendants were Mrs. Alexander Pranis, niece of the bride, Lake Katrine; Miss Linda Howell, Poughkeepsie; and Miss Anita Becker, sister of the bridegroom, Pittsburgh, Pa.

The attendants were attired in aqua chiffon-over-taffeta A-line gowns, trimmed with white lace. They wore picture hats and carried bouquets of white and aqua spring daisies.

Best man was Albert Cain of Pittsburgh, Pa. Ushering were John Meschi, Walter Eckert, brother of the bride; and Harold Cavagnaro, all of Kingston.

Approximately 100 guests attended a reception at Flamingo Restaurant, Saugerties.

Mrs. Becker was graduated from Kingston High School, Kingston Hospital School of Nursing and Russell Sage College. She is employed as a nurse by Kingston Hospital.

Her husband, an alumnus of Allegheny Technical Institute, is employed by IBM, Kingston.

Mr. and Mrs. Becker will make their home at RD 4, Box 225, Saugerties, when they return from a wedding trip to the Bahamas.

Fay Gaddis Weds Charles Ingraham

Fay Roberta Gaddis, daughter of Mrs. Robert W. Gaddis Sr. of Jackson Corners and the late Mr. Gaddis, became the bride of Charles S. Ingraham, son of Frank Ingraham of Poughkeepsie and the late Mrs. Ingraham.

The Rev. Frederick Mussen officiated at the ceremony which took place Saturday, July 15 at Gallatin Reformed Church.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Roert W. Gaddis Jr. Mrs. John Appuzzo of Kingston was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Donna Ferris of Stanfordville and Miss Claudia Waag of Lafayetteville.

Best man was Ronlad Friedfertig of Kingston. Ushering were Andrew Flintosh of Hyde Park and Kenneth Hasbrouck Jr. of New Paltz.

A reception was given at Holiday Inn, Elizaville.

Mrs. Ingraham was graduated from Pine Plains Central School and Dutchess Community College. She is employed by Dr. Henry Kwasnowski of Kingston.

Her husband an alumnus of Arlington Central School, attended Dutchess Community College. He served in the U.S. Army including a tour of Vietnam and is employed by Metropolitan Life Insurance Co., Kingston.

When they return from their wedding trip to Florida, they will reside in Catskill.

Married Recently at St. John's Church, W. Hurley

Announcement was made today to The Freeman of the wedding of Michael Joe Lawatsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lawatsch of 161 Clifton Avenue, Kingston, and John Joseph Augustine, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Augustine, 22 Lawrenceville Road, Kingston.

The Rev. Robert Loftus officiated at the double ring ceremony which took place at St. John's Church, West Hurley. Guitarists Donna Eastman and Cheri Polcastro provided wedding selections.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a white dotted Swiss empire gown styled with scooped neckline, butterfly sleeves and a long skirt accented with a ruffle. She wore a headpiece of daisies and baby's breath and carried a matching bouquet with rainbow colored pompons to match her attendants' gowns.

Elizabeth Lawatsch of Kingston was maid of honor for her sister in a blue and white checked gingham gown styled similarly to the bride's. The gown featured tiny pastel flowers. A matching hair bow with hem-length streamers served as her headpiece and she carried a bouquet of white daisies, baby's breath and blue pompons.

Attendants were Burnetta Harnden, Barbara Kelly, and Sharon Augustine, sister of the bridegroom, all of Kingston. Their pink, green, yellow gowns were identical in styling to the honor attendant's and they carried bouquets of daisies, baby's breath and pompons to match their gowns. All gowns were made by the bride's mother.

John Burger of Kingston was best man. Ushers were Jeff Macamier, Baltimore, Md.; Jerry Grier, Kingston; and Andre Alpert of Poughkeepsie.

A reception for more than 100 guests was given at the home of the bride's parents. The bride is a graduate of Kingston High School and Ulster County Community College. Her husband is an alumnus of Coleman High School, UCCC nad Marist College.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustine will reside in Ellicott City, Md.

Doing the Right Thing

By Elizabeth L. Post
(© 1972 Emily Post Institute, Inc.)

Dear Mrs. Post:

I am planning to visit a relative in a southern state. She has been employed by the same family for thirty years. She lived with her sister until three years ago when the sister passed away. Her employers asked her to live with them. We are both in our sixties and have not seen each other since 1914. I am planning to stay at a hotel but will call her and want to see her. She mentioned this to the family and they seemed very cold and had no comment.

Now, when I visit her, at a time most convenient to her, should I go to the service door?

You certainly should not go to the service door. Your relative is obviously highly regarded by her employers and she must be, by now, almost a part of the family herself. She may or may not have misinterpreted their reaction to your visit, but I would be willing to wager that you will receive a warm welcome from them as well as from your relative. Their home, after all, has become your relative's home, too, and unless it is more convenient for her, there is no reason that she — or you — should use the back door.

As my tenth wedding anniversary present, I received a pair of diamond earrings.

They are beautiful — set in a gold tiffany setting. My problem is, I don't know when to wear them. I work in a bank every day, and we usually don't go out too much, except to a movie or somewhere casual for dinner. Can I wear them anywhere and with whatever type of outfit I want, or are there definite rules for diamonds?

Mrs. E. J.

Dear Mrs. J.: While it seems a shame not to wear your lovely earrings often, it is true that wearing them at the wrong times appears ostentatious and is in poor taste.

You should not wear them to work nor the movies. You can wear them out to dinner if you don't go in jeans or to sports clothes. You don't have to be fancy but put on a pretty dress or a dressy pants suit occasionally for an evening out — if only to have an excuse to wear the earrings. It will please your husband and make you feel good at the same time.

What is your most puzzling etiquette problem? To the sender of the most interesting question that I receive each week, I will send a free copy of Emily Post's Etiquette. The question chosen, and its answer, will be published in this column. Send your questions to Elizabeth L. Post, in care of this newspaper, and don't forget to include your name and address.

Tasty Summer Salad Blossom

Summer's the season to spotlight salads! Nutritious, low calorie salads are the cool, refreshing answer to meal planning on heat-wilted days. This Salmon-Tomato Cooler looks like the petals of a fresh summer flower as it nestles in a bibb lettuce cup. A fresh-from-the-garden red tomato is sliced fan fashion and stuffed with the delicate rice and salmon salad mixture.

The base for the salad is rice medley, a blend of rice with sweet peas and mushrooms which comes frozen in a stay-perfect cooking pouch. Red salmon gives a gay color contrast while celery, sliced green onion and slivered almonds offer welcome texture contrasts.

Salmon-Tomato Cooler

One 12-oz. package rice medley (rice with peas and mushrooms) frozen in the stay-perfect pouch

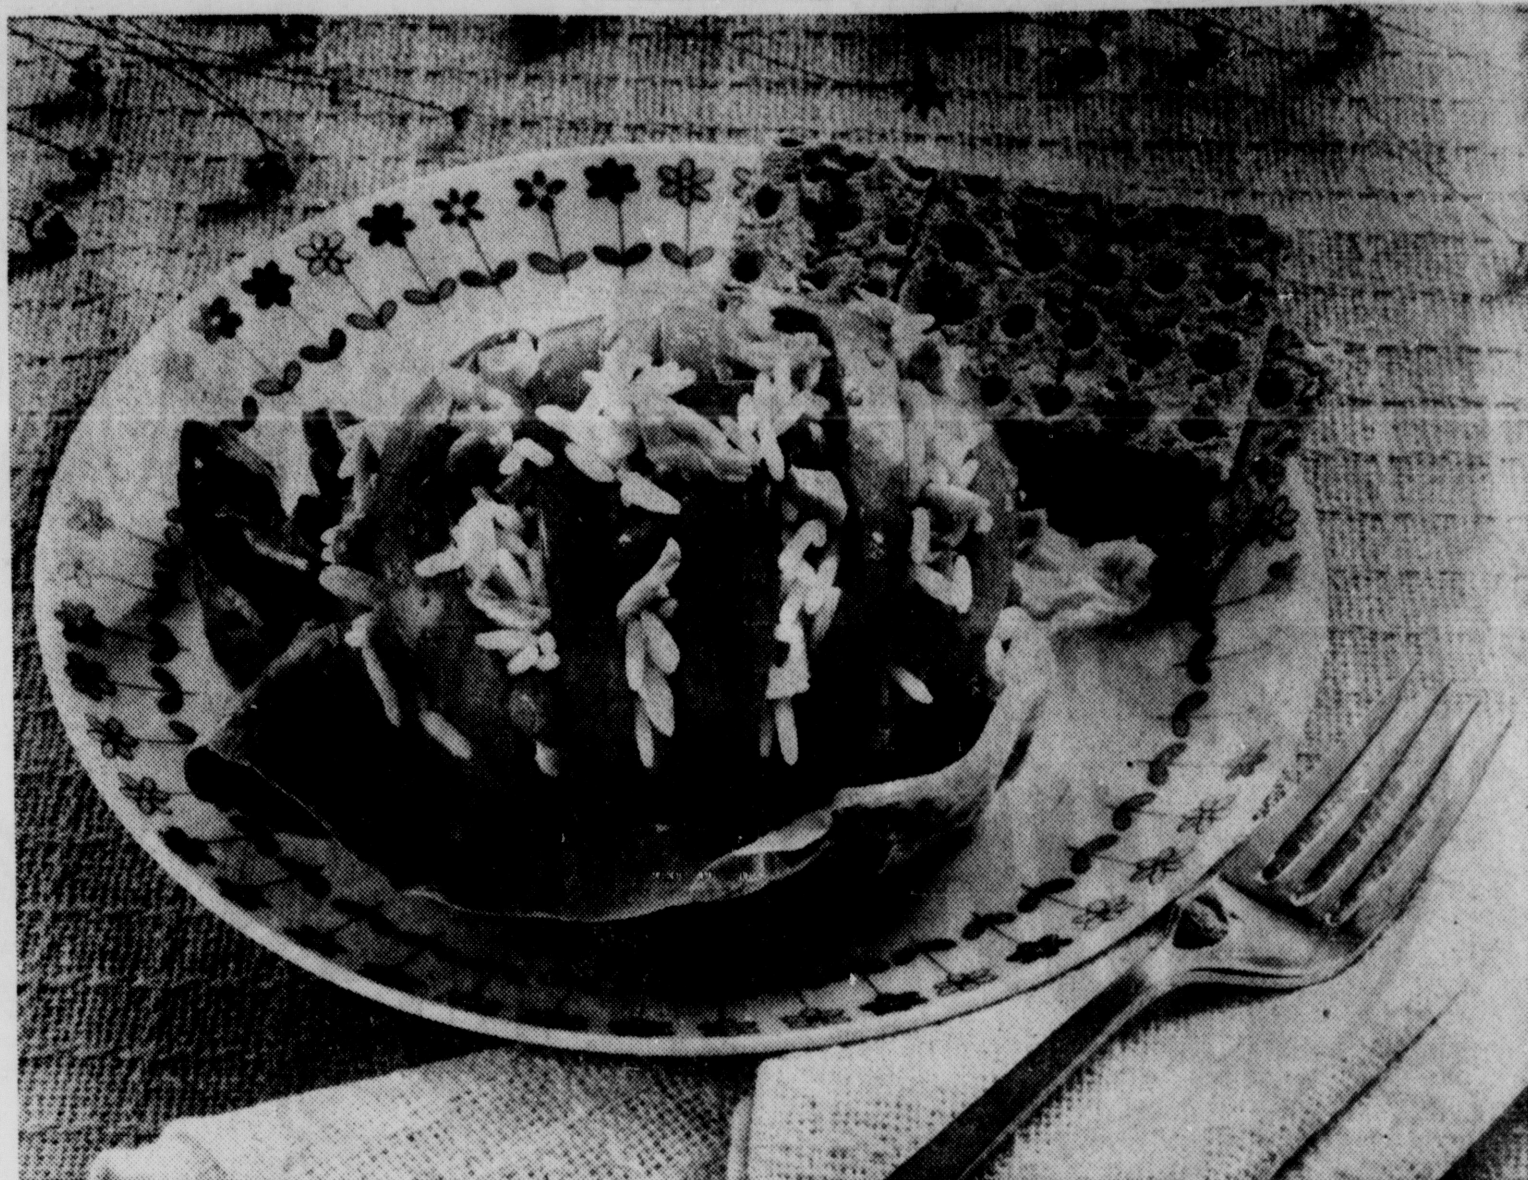

One Seven and three-quarter-oz. can red sockeye salmon, drained and flaked.

One cup chopped celery
Three tablespoons sliced green onion

Two tablespoons slivered almonds
Bottled Caesar salad dressing

Four to six medium to large tomatoes, chilled

Cook rice according to package directions. In medium bowl, combine rice, salmon, celery and onion; cover and refrigerate. With stem ends down, cut tomatoes into five or six slices, cutting to, but not through the bases. At serving time, gently stir almonds and desired amount of salad dressing into salmon-rice mixture. Spread tomato slices apart and spoon in the salmon-rice mixture. Serves four to six.

SALMON-TOMATO COOLER

Highlight a Meal With Vegetables

Are vegetables unpopular because they are vegetables, or because the tendency is to serve them just with butter?

Why not add a special touch that can make a vegetable the highlight of the meal? Vegetables au Gratin is an especially tasty way to serve them. Cooked vegetables are combined with an unusual sauce made with canned applesauce instead of milk. The tangy apple flavor brings out the taste of the vegetables and the sweetness blends the flavors. The final touch... a crunchy topping of buttered seasoned stuffing mix.

Frozen vegetables are listed, but the recipe works as well with four cups of any cooked vegetable or combination of cooked vegetables. Keep an eye on your food budget and save those small portions of leftover vegetables. Combine them with a freshly cooked vegetable, and you have a casserole that is hard to beat. A bit of ingenuity for a lot of taste appeal.

To prepare ahead, mix the vegetables with the sauce and refrigerate. Top with buttered crumbs just before baking.

Vegetables Au Gratin

One package (10 oz.) frozen peas and carrots

One package (10 oz.) frozen whole kernel corn
Two tablespoons chopped onion

One-quarter cup butter
Three tablespoons flour
Two cups canned apple sauce

One teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
One cup grated sharp cheese

One cup seasoned stuffing mix
Two tablespoons melted butter

Cook the peas and carrots and the corn as directed on the packages. Drain. Brown onion slightly in one-quarter cup butter. Blend in flour, stirring until smooth. Gradually blend in apple sauce and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Remove from heat. Add salt, pepper and cheese and stir until cheese is melted.

Add vegetables and pour into a one and one-half quart casserole. Mix stuffing mix with two tablespoons melted butter. Spoon on top of vegetables. Bake at 400 degrees for 20 minutes, or until browned. Makes six to eight servings.

Tiny Tips Cleaning Hint

Painted furniture is easier to keep clean if it is waxed.

Plastic Furniture

Dust plastic furniture regularly.

Washing Girdles

Before washing a girdle, close zipper and be sure the clasps are open.

Wash by Hand

Wash latex rubber girdles by hand.

Lifting Stemware

Always lift stemware by the stem instead of the cup to lessen chances of breakage.

TO WASH BROILER PAN
A broiler pan is easy to wash if you use hot sudsy water and a wire brush.

TASTY SPREAD

Mincing cooked leftover corned beef makes an excellent spread for crackers when the beef is mixed with mayonnaise and pickle relish.

VEGETABLES AU GRATIN—Mixed vegetables cooked in a unique sauce made with applesauce and grated cheese. The applesauce adds a touch of sweetness that children like. The crunchy topping is buttered bread stuffing mix... with seasonings that go well with vegetables.

Woodstock Antique Show Set

For the 23rd year, dealers will gather for the Woodstock Antique Show and Sale Aug. 3-6 in the historic Red Barn, itself an antique well over 100 years old, to offer their cherished antiques. Hours will be from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Garden Club Meeting Slated

ZAHCA Garden Club will meet Wednesday, Aug. 2 at the home of Mrs. Joan McDonough, Niles Drive, Woodstock at 8 p.m. Those planning to attend are asked to contact Barbara Pratt, Woodstock Club president.

At the July meeting which took place at the home of Mrs. Marlene Bassett, California Quarry Road, Woodstock, announcement was made that the miscellaneous sale scheduled for this fall will be postponed until next spring. A plant swap is planned for Thursday, Sept. 14 at the home of Mrs. Claudia Kuhns, 39 Whitney Drive, Woodstock. All members are urged to attend and invited to bring a guest.

After the business meeting, Club members participated in a program of flower pressing presented by Mrs. Shirley Kelly. Bookmarks, stationery and other items were made.

Babies Are Available for Adoption

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
© 1972 by Chicago Tribune-N.Y. News Synd. Inc.

DEAR ABBY: Every time I read a letter in your column from parents complaining because of a problem with a child I could scream! I would give my right arm to have their problem.

I am 23, married and have been to several doctors dealing with sterility problems, and I have been told I am sterile. We want to adopt a child, but there is a long waiting list of at least three years.

People who have "problems" with their children should thank God every day of their lives that they are able to have children — no matter what kind of problems they have with them. They are blessed and don't even appreciate it. I envy them their problems with their children, and I couldn't mean it more sincerely.

HEARTBROKEN FOR REAL
DEAR HEARTBROKEN: Apparently you want to adopt a newborn, America, Caucasian baby, which is not easy to come by. Babies of mixed parentage are available. Also Korean babies. Also children in orphanages, some of them handicapped. If you are sincere, and consider "problems" a blessing, you need not remain childless.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think about a man whose house is cluttered with pictures of himself? He has them in every room, framed and on the walls, and sitting around in expensive frames on every end table, and even on the window sills.

The man is now fat and bald and most of these pictures were taken long ago when he was young and handsome and had lots of hair and a trim physique. Nobody would recognize him as the same person.

What is wrong with him?

WONDERING:
Nothing need be "wrong" with him. Maybe he just enjoys seeing himself as others SAW him.

DEAR ABBY: Is it improper to put a return address on a card of sympathy?

A friend of mine said this should never be done.

HURON, S. DAKOTA
DEAR HURON: Your friend is mistaken. All mail should have a return address, and my sympathy goes to those frustrated postmasters and mail handlers who find millions of pieces of mail undeliverable because of insufficient, incorrect or illegible addresses, and NO return address.

DEAR ABBY: Please print this for "Going Crazy," the wife of a man who always starts projects but never finishes anything.

I have a solution for your problem. When your husband starts a project — painting, papering, building a patio, putting in a garden, or whatever, and then loses interest and abandons it, that's your cue to go right to work and start to "finish" it for him.

He will come running to show you how incompetent you are, quickly pointing out that you are doing it all wrong. Then he will proceed to take over the job and "show" you how an expert does it.

Just keep telling him how smart he is, and continue to marvel at his expertise. And before you know it, the job will be finished.

BEEN THERE

DEAR ABBY: Two years ago I lost my wonderful 44-year-old husband.

A year before his death I was treated for a rare gum disease. I sat in a dentist's chair for endless hours, for weeks, but despite the enormous expense, pain and time, my teeth could not be saved.

Since my husband's death I have been out on dates, but no one appealed to me until I met this one person I think I could really care about.

My problem: I have never told anyone that I have dentures. (I hate the very thought of it!) I am terribly sensitive about the fact that I wear them, although they look very natural and fit perfectly.

Could you please ask your male readers how they feel about women with false teeth? Thank you.

FEELING LOW
DEAR FEELING: I'll ask,

but I'm sure no intelligent man would think anything of it. Just keep your mouth shut. (P.S. In one way, he'd be getting a break. He'll never have to pay your dentist bill.)

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are adopting a baby. What can I say to friends and casual acquaintances alike (even clerks in stores, etc.) when they ask my husband and me which one of use is sterile?

I've been at a loss for words, and have fumed about this for days.

DEAR EVA: An impertinent question doesn't deserve an answer.

BONUS FOR BABY — Young Gerald Scott Rhoades has a headstart in the chopper department with this set of three well developed teeth . . . especially well-developed since the lad is only nine days old. His mother, Mrs. Floyd F.

Rhoades of the Spring Lake Trailer Park, said Gerald is already cutting a fourth. The impetuous infant just couldn't wait the normal five or six months for his first set of teeth. (Freeman photo by Haines)

County Drug Commission Receives $7,800 Grant

KINGSTON The Ulster County Drug Commission announced today that it had been awarded a grant of $7,800 for the state fiscal year from the New York State Narcotics Addiction Control Commission to sponsor a central phone service for drug abuse crisis and drug abuse information for Ulster County.

The County Drug Commission has sub-contracted this function to The Family of Woodstock, a group widely known throughout the area for its work with non-establishment youngsters and others who are in need of assistance. The phones are to be operational 24 hours daily through September and will be open 12 hours per day.

Dutchess Dairy Princess Plans Visits to Children

RED HOOK She is a graduate of Weebuck High School and has been an active 4-H member for nine years. Miss McEnroe is eligible to participate in the statewide contest at the New York State Fair in Syracuse this September. Her Wednesday schedule calls for visits to the Northern Dutchess Day Care Center in Red Hook at 9:30 a.m.; the Chancellor Livingston Elementary School in Rhinebeck at 10; and a stint at the Grand Union in Red Hook at 1:30 p.m. where she will speak with patrons at the dairy case. Silver Lake Dairy will supply milk for the school children.

Uptown Redevelopment Heads Council Agenda

By HUGH REYNOLDS KINGSTON

The Common Council will be asked to set a public hearing date on two more redevelopment proposals in the Uptown Urban Renewal Project when the aldermen meet in regular session at city hall on Tuesday night at 7:30.

Roland A. Augustine is seeking approval of a plan to construct an office building at the corner of the new Clinton Avenue Extension and Washington Avenue while Louis Provenzano and Joseph Costello seek approval of a plan to build a "small snack and lunch facility" on Clinton Avenue Extension next to the Burrough's Building.

Augustine told The Freeman that plans call for a one-story building with a full basement, with about 10,000 square feet of space. Cost estimates are in the $150,000 to $200,000 range in the colonial architecture-designed building. Parking will be provided for from 30 to 50 cars. Augustine is planning on a Sept. 1 construction start.

There is a letter on file from Alderman Joseph McGrane (D-Second Ward) opposed to the State Department of Transportation's plans to rehabilitate the Rondout Creek Bridge. McGrane, noting that the state will have to set up detour routes, contends that increased truck traffic along Washington Avenue will be a result. He asks for a meeting with Alderman Peter J. Mancuso (D-12th Ward), chairman of the Council's Traffic Committee, to discuss the situation.

Elaborating his position in a news release, McGrane said, "I also feel that the estimate of half a million dollars, merely to prepare detour routes and another estimated million dollars for repairs is too much money to spend this way—especially when the net result would still be an antiquated, narrow, insufficient, inadequate bridge."

"The state commissioner of transportation has said that the construction of a brand new bridge would cost ten million dollars," McGrane said. "But he has now pointed out that since the federal government would pay one half the cost that the net cost of this facility to the state would be five million dollars. The one and a half million proposed to be spent on repairs would go a long way to pay for the cost of the new, much-needed bridge," he concluded.

In other news from city hall, Mayor Francis R. Koenig reported on a meeting he attended in Washington on Thursday arranged by Congressman Hamilton Fish Jr. to discuss plans for the proposed flood control project in the uptown urban renewal area.

Koenig was joined by James G. Connors, executive director of the Kingston Urban Renewal Agency, Alexander Yosman, assistant to the president of Route 9 Corp. and James V. Andretta, president of that company which is constructing a $1.8 million luxury apartment complex in the uptown project in the area where the flood control project is planned.

Officials from the Army Corps of Engineers and the Department of Housing and Urban Development were also in attendance. The city, according to Koenig "is trying to get the flood control project started."

Thursday's meeting failed to accomplish that, although Koenig said that more meetings are planned with the State Department of Environmental Conservation for further discussions on the project. In other matters, Koenig has also made known the appointment of Leon C. Miller to a six-year term on the Civil Service Commission replacing John Hogan.

Bucs Acting Like Leaders

By United Press International
The Pittsburgh Pirates retained their strong lead in the National League East Sunday by beating the Philadelphia Phillies, 7-1.

The Pirates' victory, aided by Richie Hebner's three-run homer in the eighth inning, enabled them to remain seven games ahead of the New York Mets, who broke a three-game losing streak with a 3-1 triumph over the Montreal Expos.

The Chicago Cubs swept the St. Louis Cardinals 4-0 and 5-4, the San Francisco Giants topped the Cincinnati Reds 6-1, after a 4-0 loss, the Houston Astros scored a 4-3 victory in 10 innings after losing their opener to the San Diego Padres 10-7 in 14 innings and the Atlanta Braves beat the Los Angeles Dodgers 14-4 and 5-4 in other NL games.

The Phillies had a 1-0 lead going into the eighth when the pressure of the Pirates' top-to-bottom batting strength took its toll on Barry Lersch. They scored one run on a single by Gene Clines and Al Oliver's two-run double and wrapped it up when Hebner hit his 10th homer. Three more runs in the ninth made it that much easier for Bruce Kison to raise his season record to 5-3.

Rookie Rick Reuschel pitched a six-hitter for his fourth victory in the first game and Glenn Beckert's two-run eighth-inning double enabled the Cubs to win the second game and complete their sweep of the Cardinals. Jose Cardenal drove in two runs in the first game while Tom Phoebus pitched two scoreless innings of relief to earn his third victory for the Cubs in the nightcap.

Ross Grimsley pitched an eight-hitter to raise his season mark to 9-4 for the Reds in the first game but Ed Goodson's three-run pinch triple highlighted a five-run 10th-inning outburst which gave the Giants a split of their doubleheader.

The key blows in the Reds' opening game triumph, which tagged Juan Marichal with his 11th defeat, were doubles by Johnny Bench and Darrel Chaney and a triple by Denis Menke.

Jimmy Stewart's 10th-inning single drove in the winning run for the Astros in their second game as the teams completed a marathon weekend during which they played 41 innings, including a 17-inning game Saturday night, in 41 hours.

Nate Colbert hit his 24th and 25th homers, taking away the major league lead from Bench, to account for all San Diego's runs in the nightcap.

Infielder Dave Roberts, no relation to the pitcher of the same name, drove in five runs in the first game. Del Thomas singled home the winning run for the Astros in the 14th inning of the opener and Roberts followed with a two-run single which clinched the decision.

Earl Williams and Mike Lum each drove in three runs and the Braves took advantage of three errors and four wild pitches by the Dodgers in their first game. Ralph Garr's three-run seventh-inning homer was the big blow of the second game as Pat Jarvis raised his record to 9-4 and the Braves handed Jim Brewer his fourth loss against six victories.

Cuellar Blanks Yankees

By United Press International
The Baltimore Orioles beat the New York Yankees, 5-0, Sunday with a homer by Boog Powell giving southpaw Mike Cuellar an early cushion for the shutout.

The victory, coupled with Detroit's split of a doubleheader with Boston, moved the Orioles to within one game of the front-running Tigers. The win was Baltimore's 11th in its past 15 games.

Powell slammed a Ron Klimkowski fastball over the left center field fence with two out in the third inning and Merv Rettenmund aboard on a walk.

Cuellar raised his lifetime record against the Yankees to 11-3. He also shut out the Yanks when John Kennedy, who had been hitting 1-for-21, hit a lazy single to right field to help Lynn McGlothen earn his fourth victory in seven decisions.

Dave Nelson snapped out of long slump with a pair of game-winning hits as the Rangers took a twinbill from Oakland. The Ranger third baseman, who was 7-for-60 before the games, singled home Jim Mason for the big tally in the seventh inning of the nightcap to hand Don Stanhouse his first major league victory.

Nelson had four hits in nine trips to the plate and stole four bases—hiking his league lead in that department to 33.

Harmon Killebrew's home run and Jim Perry's clutch pitching produced a shutout victory for Minnesota over Chicago. The home run broke a scoreless duel in the sixth inning between Perry and Wilbur Wood.

HOW ABOUT IT, UMP? — Pittsburgh pitcher Bruce Kison (25) has a few words for umpire Richard Stello over a hit batter call by Stello. Phil's Deron Johnson took first on the call in the seventh inning in Philadelphia Sunday. Kison lost this argument but won the game 7-1. (UPI)

It Was Easy for McCluskey

By BLOYS BRITT
AP Auto Racing Writer
MT. POCONO, Pa. (AP) — Joe Leonard, a grandfather from San Jose, Calif., and his old pro buddy Roger McCluskey of Tucson, Ariz., won auto races in Pennsylvania during the weekend.

For McCluskey, it was an easy victory in the Pennsylvania 500 for stock cars Sunday. For Leonard, it required a bit of waiting to be sure that he had captured the $83,530 first place check for Saturday's Schaefer 500 at Pocono International Raceway.

He didn't know for sure until Sunday morning, after timers and scorers had rifled through their lap cards more than a dozen times.

McCluskey, 37, completed his chore more than four laps ahead of second place Butch Hartman of North Zanesville, Ohio. He was paid $10,000 for his second straight triumph on the United States Auto Club stock circuit and his third of the season.

Leonard, also 37, drove one of Parnelli Jones' Viceroy Specials at an average speed of 154.781 miles per hour — McCluskey's average in the stock car race was 127.035 m.p.h. — to cross the finish line by 25 seconds ahead of Johnny Rutherford of Ft. Worth, Tex.

All probably would have ended well, had not Rutherford been listed on the electronic scoreboard earlier as the leader, when Leonard actually was in front of the field.

The pace car driven by ex-Indianapolis winner Sam Hanks had gone on the track and picked up Rutherford as the leader, the occasion being on when Jimmy Caruthers of Anaheim, Calif., crashed into the third turn wall, escaping with minor burns and contusions.

Five laps later, however, the pace car suddenly dropped Rutherford to second place and picked up Leonard as the leader, but the scoreboard disagreed, flashing Al Unser's No. 4 in the top spot.

Jackie Ickx of Belgium won the German Grand Prix at Adenau, Canadian Eppie Wietzes won the L&M 5000 Continental Grand Prix at Brainerd, Minn., and Lee Kunzman took the United States Auto Club sprint race at Winchester, Ind.

Ickx drove his Ferrari 312 B2 to a 40-second victory over teammate Clay Regazzoni of Switzerland in the German Grand Prix at an average speed of 116.63 miles per hour for the 198.6 miles.

Zarley and Hiskey Team Champions

Lead Top Field By Three Shots

LIGONIER, Pa. (UPI) — Kermit Zarley ended one streak Sunday and Babe Hiskey began another with their victory in the National Team Championship.

For Zarley, it was the end of a frustrating three months during which, he said "the last round of every tournament was my worst." That included the U.S. Open, where he lost a chance to win by shooting 79 the final day.

Hiskey earned himself a valued exemption on the pro tour for his part of the victory, which means that for the next year he will not have to go through the grind of Monday morning qualifiers.

"But," he said, "I think I'll just take the next week off and enjoy it."

Three three-stroke victories Sunday, with a final 66 and 72-hole score of 22-under-par 262 (only the lower score on each hole counted toward the total) was worth $20,000 a man.

Johnny Miller and Grier Jones, who had 63 Sunday, were next at 265 while Lanny Wadkins and Gibby Gilbert were at 266 and Tommy Aaron and Charles Coody at 267.

Hiskey had 16 birdies and Zarley seven in the four rounds.

Zarley made three of the team's five birdies in the final round including the eight-foot putt that wapped it up on No. 17.

Both players said they were glad to end the two-year Arnold Palmer-Jack Nicklaus domination of this tournament, but Zarley observed somewhat realistically, "they probably would have won it again if they teed it up."

"But it's great to win," he said. "I was getting tired of them winning this thing."

Palmer and his substitute partner, young Jack Lewis, finished with a 70 and 275 total for a 30th place tie worth $710 each.

Miller made five of the eight birdies for his team in the 63, the best round of the final day, that vaulted them into the runner-up spot.

"I told Grier that if we shot 63, we'd win," Miller said. "We almost did."

One of the tournament's more curious admissions came from Coody, who contended "the second and third days. I just got psyched out putting." Those days he and his partner scored 70 and 71. Their scores the first and last days were 62 and 64.

McAndrew Goofed

NEW YORK (AP) — "It was nobody's fault but my own. If we had lost the ball game it would have been my fault," New York pitcher Jim McAndrew said about Montreal's Clyde Mashore's dramatic steal of home plate.

"I saw him break but I underestimated his speed. I thought I'd be able to get him," McAndrew said, describing the only run he surrendered as the Mets cruised to a 3-1 National League baseball triumph over the Expos Sunday afternoon.

Jim Fairley singled and Ron Fairly doubled with one out in the fourth inning. Fairley injured a leg running to third and was replaced by Mashore, who promptly stole home and gave Montreal a short-lived 1-0 lead.

NICE GOING, OLD BUDDY — The new National Team champions Kermit Zarley (L) and Babe Hiskey slap hands and congratulate each other after they parried 18 to win Sunday in Ligonier, Pa. They finished 22 under par. (UPI).

Chris Had It All This Time Around

CLEVELAND (UPI) — It took Chris Evert 15 minutes "to get it all together" to defeat Australian Evonne Goolagong 6-3, 4-6, 6-0, Sunday in the inaugural Bonne Bell Cup matches.

But had it not been for Evonne's relaxed attitude, "because there was no atmosphere here like at Wimbledon when I beat Chris," it might have been a different story for the Florida schoolgirl.

Chris, 17, of Ft. Lauderdale, who plans to turn professional following her 18th birthday Dec. 21, said had it not been for the break in play between the second and third set when she mapped strategy it "would have been to Evonne's advantage because she played a great second set."

"Carole (Graebner, non-playing captain of the U.S. team) told me to play my same kind of baseline game, make blocks and let Evonne make all the errors," Chris said. "Evonne hit a lot of backhand shots to me in the last set but I expected them."

What Evonne didn't expect was that Chris, who won two matches in the best-of-seven series for the only American points, would just sit back and stay "in her groove."

"(Chris) makes it difficult to play," Evonne said. "I rushed myself in the third set and it put on the pressure."

"I played flat because there was no aggression. There was no tension here like at Wimbledon when we met the first time. Chris plays in a groove and you have to get out of that groove and I didn't."

KPA Nips Legion, 1-0

KPA got their only two hits of the game in the second inning and scored Gary Moon with the contest's only run to settle a pitching battle between the winners' Cliff Lyons and Ken Foster of the American Legion in a Babe Ruth League tilt at Dietz Stadium.

Moon led off the second with a sharp single to become the game's first baserunner. The KPA receiver moved himself in to scoring position with a stolen base then came home on Mike Jordan's RBI single.

Shakedown Period For Pro Football

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
The real shakedown period starts in pro football this week as the pre-season exhibition schedule goes into high gear.

A total of 12 exhibitions are listed for the weekend following the official opening last Friday when the Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys whipped the College All-Stars 20-7 in Chicago and the Kansas City Chiefs defeated the New York Giants 23-17 in the Hall of Fame game at Canton, Ohio, Saturday.

Jan Ferraris Strokes 221 To Take Lady Pepsi Golf

ATLANTA (UPI) — Jan Ferraris, a slender brunette from San Francisco, won the Lady Pepsi Open by one stroke Sunday although she was two-over par in the final round.

Miss Ferraris shot a final two-over par 75 for a two-over-par 221 total that nipped Betty Burfeindt of Caanan, N.Y., by a single stroke despite Miss Burfeindt's final round of five-under-par 68, three strokes better than any other woman shot during the three-day tournament.

State Girls in the Money

ATLANTA, Ga. (UPI) — Three New York State golfers came in the money in the Lady Pepsi Open Sunday.

Betty Burfeindt, of the Columbia County community of Canaan, won $2,825, with her second-place finish of 222, one stroke behind winner Jan Ferraris.

Further down the line, at 225, was Gail Denenberg, of Monroe, in Orange County, who led the first round and was tied with Miss Ferraris at the end of the second round. Her six-over-par finish was worth $1,050.

Champions Defend Calicoon

CALICOON, N.Y. (UPI) — The feature race of the fifth annual Upper Delaware-Sullivan County canoe regatta was won Sunday by the defending champions Robert Zaverl and Albert Camp.

Their time over the 26-mile route from Hancock to Calicoon, which includes two series of tricky rapids, was 3:48:25. Last year they set the current record of 3:09:20.

And finishing at 237, for winnings of $145 was Debbie Austin of Oneida.

Jan Ferraris Strokes 221 To Take Lady Pepsi Golf

ATLANTA (UPI) — Jan Ferraris, a slender brunette from San Francisco, won the Lady Pepsi Open by one stroke Sunday although she was two-over par in the final round.

Miss Ferraris shot a final two-over par 75 for a two-over-par 221 total that nipped Betty Burfeindt of Caanan, N.Y., by a single stroke despite Miss Burfeindt's final round of five-under-par 68, three strokes better than any other woman shot during the three-day tournament.

Gail Denenberg, who led the first round and was tied with Miss Ferraris at the end of the second round, skied to a six-under-par 79 to wind up alone at Classic, earned $3,750 for her 225.

Randall and Bostic Fire 135 for Two-Man Title

By CHARLES J. TIANO
Sports Editor

ACCORD "We're happy we won it," replied Leon Randall, when asked how it felt for him and partner Harvey Bostic to win the first annual Ulster County Two-Man golf championship at the Rondout Pool, Golf and Tennis Association course over the weekend.

"I'm sure the tournament will grow in size and prestige and all the players seemed to like it," he added.

Randall and Bostic, who between them have won the last eight Ulster County individual titles, did what everybody expected them to do as a team. They fashioned a 36-hole, 5-under-par 135 best ball for a four-stroke margin over the field.

The only serious threat to the winners came from the brother combination of Bill and Harold Van Aken, who finished with 139. The two top tandems were the only duos to better par on the Rondout course, where interesting pin placements kept par honest on most holes.

Bostic and Randall carded eight birdies between them enroute to best-ball rounds of 66-69 and complemented each other beautifully by making sure they didn't birdie or bogey the same hole. This is a crucial aspect of best-ball competition. Randall, despite the annoyance of having to wear a no-fly collar, fired 71-70-141, one over par, to lead the field. Bostic was a stroke behind with 70-72-142. After bagging five birdies in the first round two by Bostic on the challenging 9th hole—the champions added two more Sunday, one by Bostic and successive birdies by Randall on 13 and 14.

The Van Aken brothers held second place throughout the two days but could not mount a serious challenge to the leaders. They fashioned six birdies but three bogey-5s on the 9th hole proved costly.

The home team of Rich-

Barthel and J. Mich Bruhn, 74-143 to grab third place by a stroke over the Woodstock Country Club duo of Howie Gordon and Andrew Rubin, current and past champion, who shot 72-72-144.

The New Paltz tandem of Doug Sheppard and Bill Odenal posted 74-71-145 to share a fifth place tie with George Hughes and Bob Terpening of Twaalfskill, who had 72-73-145, to round out the prize list.

At Royals' Academy

Needle in Haystack

KINGSTON Looking for needles in haystacks is what it amounts to. If we find only one we're very happy.

Standing in Dietz Stadium in a dusty Kansas City Royals uniform, the speaker was Bob Jacobson, a crew chief in the scouting system for the Royals' Baseball Academy. "So far we've looked at over 1000 kids, and we haven't found one yet."

Jacobson brought his three-man outfit to Kingston Friday to hold two days of tryouts, but the candidates and the criteria were not what you'd expect of such an organization. As a handful of youngsters went through their paces, Jacobson explained his mission:

"This area has been combed over and over again by many scouts, and they've snatched up all the baseball talent. What we're looking for is a kid with natural ability, good speed and a good arm, and the ability to learn."

The major leagues are not the immediate goal of the prospects. Rather it's the Royals' Baseball Academy, an institution unique to the sport. It's a Florida campus that combines a junior college education with extensive baseball training, all with pay and benefits.

First test for the fifty hopefuls was a 60-yard dash. Do it in 6.9 seconds and you've passed. Next the candidates were required to make throws to various bases from their respective positions. Not too many will impress enough in these two categories to get any further, but waiting for those who do is a psycho-motor test to determine how well the prospect responds to coaching.

Despite the fact that applicants are restricted to high school graduates under the age of 20 who have not been drafted and are not committed to a college, the competition is extremely stiff. Jacobson and his counterparts all over the country will review upwards of 7000 ball players, and out of this group only around 25 will be chosen.

The players at Dietz were from all over the Hudson Valley, and many had been invited or were referred to the tryout by local scouts. Several of the athletes were from the Hudson Valley Rookie League.

This is the third summer of operation for the Royals' venture. The campus near Sarasota, Fla., represents a $1,500,000 investment alone and the cost of filling the vacancies soars beyond that.

"Sure it's expensive," Jacobson said, "but it's worth it. We already have two of our graduates in double A ball and 13 as high as class A."

Jacobson and his colleagues, Tom O'Brien and Preston Appel, have a six month bird dog season. The first half, which begins in March, is taken up mostly with the high school season recommending prospects for the draft. The last three months they concentrate mainly on searching for Academy material.

"There is talent available," Jacobson maintained. "I worked out west last year. We signed seven players then."

The program at the Royals' academy includes 16 months of baseball training plus two or three semesters at Manatee Junior College. The Academy's first class won the Gulf Coast League pennant by 9½ games in the process and compiled an overall winning percentage of .672 in 241 games against all types of competition.

Allen Names 'King' Hurlers

KINGSTON by Manager Frank Allen include Larry Allen, Roger Steltz, the Hudson Valley All Star soft ball team which plays the famed King and His Court Wednesday at 8 p.m. at Dietz Stadium. Eddie Feigner, one of the greatest pitchers in softball history, will be on the mound for the internationally known 5-man team. Tickets are on sale at Spada's Sport Shop on Broadway.

Wants Douglas 'Paper' Ruling, Set Aside

Government Seeks Court Poll

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The federal government wants to poll U.S. Supreme Court justices, now scattered on vacation, in hopes they will overturn a wiretap decision that is delaying the start of testimony in the Pentagon Papers trial.

Defense attorneys said going to such lengths would prove the prosecution of Daniel Ellsberg and Anthony Russo is a politically motivated vendetta.

The Justice Department would like to see the full court canvassed to set aside a ruling Saturday by Justice William O. Douglas, who heard arguments in Yakima, Wash., near his own vacation retreat.

Solicitor General Erwin N. Griswold planned to contact the office of Chief Justice Warren Burger today with a request that the other justices hear the government's appeal.

Washington sources suggested the justices could confer by telephone, as they did recently on the matter of seating the delegation led by Chicago Mayor Richard Daley to the Democratic National Convention.

The jury in the Pentagon Papers trial has already been selected and sworn, and opening arguments have been repeatedly postponed since last week, due to the delay caused by wrangling over the wiretap issue.

Douglas issued an order staying the trial until the full court could review the complex wiretapping dispute, calling it a "profoundly important constitutional question."

At issue is whether an admitted incident of wiretapping by federal agents has any connection with the trial, and if it violated the constitutional rights of the defendants, including their right to privacy in communicating with lawyers and consultants.

Details of the incident are known only to the Justice Department and the trial judge, U.S. District Court Judge Matthew Byrne.

Byrne, given details of the incident under the secrecy of an "in camera" deposition by government attorneys, ruled that although the incident involved someone from the defense side of the case, it was not connected with the trial in any way.

Defense attorneys, arguing only they would know if their case was involved, appealed the judge's ruling to a higher court, which turned them down. Then they appealed to Douglas, who issued the order delaying the trial.

Bremer Trial Underway

UPPER MARLBORO, Md. (UPI)—Arthur Herman Bremer, the Milwaukee busboy accused of critically wounding Gov. George C. Wallace, goes on trial today in a pale green Prince Georges County courtroom.

Bremer, 21, has pleaded not guilty by reason of insanity to charges he attempted to murder Wallace, a campaign worker, a Secret Service agent, and an Alabama state trooper.

He could receive prison terms totaling 13 years if he is convicted.

The shooting incident occurred May 15 as Wallace completed a campaign rally at a Laurel, Md., shopping center.

parking lot. A spinal injury left Wallace paralyzed from the hips down, and he now is undergoing therapy in his home state.

The Maryland state trial will be presided over by Judge Ralph Powers in a second floor courtroom that is about 100 yards from the cell where Bremer has been held since mid-July.

Powers is expected to rule today on a series of motions filed by Bremer's court-appointed attorney, Benjamin Lipsitz.

Lipsitz has asked for two separate trials—one on Bremer's sanity and a second on the question of guilt. The attorney also has asked that Bremer "not be surrounded by or accompanied by guards or other security personnel but simply seated in the courtroom as any other spectator."

In another motion, Lipsitz has asked that jurors be allowed to enter the courtroom without being searched.

Both Lipsitz and the prosecutor, Arthur A. Marshall, have submitted lists of questions they wish the judge to ask prospective jurors. Lipsitz wants Powers to ask them if they belong to the American Independent Party or if they support Wallace's political views.

Among Marshall's questions were, "do you own a gun?" and "should a political assassin be treated differently than any other defendant?"

County officials ordered $400,000 worth of improvements to the county jail to make certain Bremer remains "safe and secure." Bremer was brought to the jail from Jessup, Md., where he was sent to a state mental hospital for a psychiatric examination.

The hospital's chief psychiatrist reported that Bremer politely refused to talk to psychiatrists.

A public meeting was held recently at the Tillson Fire Hall to discuss the need for the purchase of new fire fighting apparatus. The meeting was attended by approximately 40 taxpayers from the fire district who asked many questions of the fire commissioner and line officers of the fire department as to the need for this expenditure.

The taxpayers are reminded that a vote regarding this proposal will be held on Aug. 9, between the hours of 7-10 p.m. at the Tillson Fire Hall.

Your Horoscope

TUESDAY, AUGUST 1, 1972

GENERAL TENDENCIES: You find there is a decided conflict between ideas and performance today, between financial activities and intellectual outlets, and it is necessary that you do try to harmonize the two different systems by scheduling your hours to give you a chance to build up both avenues of expression rightly.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) That monetary plan you have cannot work out successfully if you do not get the support of a backer who also has the necessary expertise. You would only work yourself literally to death otherwise. Retire early in p.m.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Those of the female gender are most helpful in a.m. and p.m., but males are apt to be most demanding, so be guided accordingly. Show higher-ups that finances are not uppermost in your mind. Get bills paid early.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) Run over accounting records and you find you can make new investment, or find ways to economize. Follow through with advice given you by experts. Being with intellectuals later in the day is fine.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Avoid one who has nothing but money on his or her mind and enjoy the company of good friends you like. You are able to gain that idealistic aim today, if you work at it wisely. Think constructively.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) If you in any way irk a bigwig who is most important to your way of life, you will certainly regret it later on. Get busy on personal matters that are vital and keep out of trouble. Pay that bill instead of arguing about it.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You have fine ideas for advancing, so set up the right new policy quickly for future living, but do not irk a good adviser. Plan that new trip also. Forget those things you can do nothing about.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Let a good pal guide you on just how to have more pleasant relations with others, but avoid a highfalutin financier who has an eye on your assets. Not a good day for business, but fine for social, cultural matters. Be more sure of yourself.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Listen to what a partner has to say, instead of following an irascible bigwig today. Bigwigs have conflicting ideas, so keep neutral now and all is fine for you. Grow.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) You have fine new ideas that require only open-mindedness to derive many benefits from them, plus good hard work. Plan those changes that are necessary, and also handle transportation matters well. Change your diet, too.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Fine day for enjoying amusements during spare time; forget going to that adviser who is too busy today. You have specialized talents that should be put to work now. These can lead to excellent benefits.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Try to understand what it is that your associates expect of you, and you find you come to a far better understanding. Don't bring up little frustrations at home that can start a big argument. Show you have poise.

PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Be active at shopping, keeping appointments and getting everything operating much more efficiently now. Do not irk that co-worker who is already in a bad mood. Evening is fine for whatever is of a social nature.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those charming young people who likes to please others, but is also of a very practical turn of mind, so be sure you understand your child and do not try to change him or her to suit your own ideas, or the fine promise here will be lost. Slant the education along lines that will place your youngster in the limelight, whether on the stage, in political circles, on the lecture platform, or whatever. Encourage your son, daughter.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU!

Jean Adams' TEEN FORUM

SEX AT 15: (Q.) Last winter my mother had a nervous breakdown. She told my sister and me a lot of bad things had happened to her. One was that when she was 17 she had a baby and put it up for adoption.

This affected me quite a bit, because my boy friend and I are very serious, and during the past year we have gone all the way.

I am wondering if what we are doing will affect me in the future. Is there anything I should do before it is too late? Please don't tell me to give up my boy friend. I can't do that either. Please answer quickly, because every night I dream about what might happen.

—15 in Virginia

(A.) What your mother did affected her in the future. What you are doing will affect you in the future. You may not have a baby, but there will be affects just the same. You are already having them—fears and dreads and guilts.

If you cannot give up your boy friend, give up intercourse. Talk to him about your fears. Ask him and yourself if sex at 15 is worth the price you are already paying for it.

SNUBBED: (Q.) There is this bunch of kids that hang out on the corner near my house.

One is an 18-year-old boy. He and I were friends until Sunday. All of a sudden he won't speak to me. When I try to talk to him he puts his fingers in his ears so he can't hear.

His sister says he says it is because I have changed. But the other kids say I haven't changed. Please tell me what to do, as I can't talk to him.

—Embarrassed Girl in Connecticut

(A.) The boy's sister apparently talks to you. Tell her to tell him that the first amendment to the Constitution guarantees him freedom of speech, but if he refuses to exercise that freedom and speak to you about his specific complaint, there is nothing you can do about it.

(Jean Adams reads and considers every letter, but she regrets that she cannot answer each personally. Mail your questions and comments to Jean Adams, care of The Daily Freeman, P.O. Box 2402, Houston, Texas 77001)

There's a book out now, "Memoirs of An Ex-Prom Queen," by Alix Kates Shulman, which is going to be a large movie. That's almost certain because the book is a big one and it's already part of one of the biggest deals in publishing history.

Mrs. Shulman says that Bantam has paid $345,000 for the paper back rights to her novel. The movie rights will go pretty high too. Mrs. Shulman and Eleanor Perry are already working on the screen play.

That's a lot of money and Mrs. Shulman says some of it will go to "the movement"—presumably the Women's Lib movement.

She says hers is the first book which treats sex from the women's point of view.

"It's always from the man's," she says. "And the same is true of movies. Although I was surprised to see that a few older movies—like 'Adam's Rib'—were the exceptions. Sex, in films, is always a man's prerogative. Until now."

Weather report: Another high-pressure hot air mass will be moving across the country from Miami Beach shortly.

Reason we can't take that two-week rest in the mountains is that we've got to work the time to pay the specialist for advice.

News President Stays Home

During Cynthia Lowry's vacation, the column is being written by invited guests. This is the report from an enthusiastic broadcast journalist in the NBC fold who would like to be where the action is, but makes the best of keeping the home fires burning.

A broadcasting network has more presidents than Central America. I am President of NBC News.

If you're president of NBC News, you stay home.

I sent people to China when President Nixon went there, and to Russia when he went there. The written-word reporters were miffed at how many people television sent. A newspaper reporter leaves his copy editor the one who corrects his spelling and puts in facts he left out at home, and his editor and the man who puts his story into type, and the man who puts the type on the printing press and the driver who delivers the paper and the news dealer who sells it.

Television sends all those people, or the ones who do comparable jobs. Between the program in Peking or Moscow or Shanghai or Warsaw and the television set in the American home there is nobody.

So we went not only reporters but cameramen and film developers and film editors and producers and editors and live cameramen and technicians. And they all came back with stories.

In Russia, foreign currency is much prized. The Russians have special stores where only foreign currency is accepted. And even some bars. John Chancellor ordered a Martini in one of those bars and paid for it with a 100-schilling note he has picked up during the Austrian stopover.

He got his Martini and the following change: two American dollars, one English shilling, a Dutch guilder and a pack of Camels.

Dick Valeriani, our White House man, likes to learn languages wherever he goes. It was his first trip to Russia. He got into the elevator in his hotel pointed to the button for the 15th floor, and speaking slowly asked "How do you say that?" Just as slowly, the elevator operator said, "Fifteen."

My favorite 1972 story is about the NBC news producer having his hair cut in Peking's Nationalities Hotel. After the hair cut came the shampoo, which the barber, who spoke some English but not much, called "brain washing."

U.S. Accelerates Air War

B52 and Two Jets Crash

SAIGON (UPI)—A U.S. Air Force B52 bomber and a pair of F4 Phantom jet fighter-bombers crashed Sunday as the U.S. command accelerated the air war with more than 600 missions over North and South Vietnam military spokesmen said today.

Air Force and Navy fighter-bombers scored bullseyes with guided bombs to destroy five bridges near Hanoi and Haiphong, the command said. A ball of fire rose 3,000 feet after a strike at a Haiphong port facility.

The command said the B52 carried a crew of six and was headed for a bombing mission over Indochina when it went down in a thunderstorm near Ubon Rathchathani, 300 miles northeast of Bangkok. Cause of the crash was not known. The U.S. embassy in Bangkok said one survivor was found but there was no word on the remaining five crewmen.

According to unofficial records, it was the sixth B52 to crash during the Vietnam war and the second to crash in bad weather this month.

Both Air Force Phantom fighter bombers crashed in the Gulf of Tonkin Sunday. One was downed in a dogfight with a North Vietnamese MIG. The rescued crewmen said they did not think the plane was damaged by the Communist fighter before crashing 80 miles offshore from Vinh.

The second F4 crashed at sea 85 miles from Haiphong after failing to rendezvous with a tanker. Both of the $2 million airplanes were returning from missions over North Vietnam when they crashed.

Radio Hanoi charged in a Saigon-monitored broadcast that U.S. planes July 19 bombed the dike system on the Chu River in North Vietnam.

A sewage system at Thanh Hoa, 85 miles southwest of Hanoi, and the sewage system at Thai Binh, U.S. officials do not comment on Radio Hanoi allegations.

On the war front in South Vietnam, government soldiers in separate battles Sunday reopened two sections of Highway 1, the vital supply line running through the northern part of the country.

Official spokesmen in Saigon said they had few details of the Stratofortress crash. The $8 million plane was based at U-Tapao Air Force Base in Thailand, home of most of the B52s that fly missions over Vietnam. The command said the specific mission of the aircraft was not known.

B52s flew three missions and strikes were 310 tactical air strikes over the North during the 24 hours ending at 5 p.m. Sunday, the command said.

About 93 of the big planes dumped an estimated 2,325 tons of explosives on North Vietnamese supply dumps and emplacements, where fighter-bombers struck 277 times Sunday.

Air Force jets using guided bombs dropped the middle swivel span of a 738-foot-long bridge five miles northeast of Hanoi Sunday. They also destroyed the center span of Highway 1, 18 miles from the North Vietnamese capital, the command said.

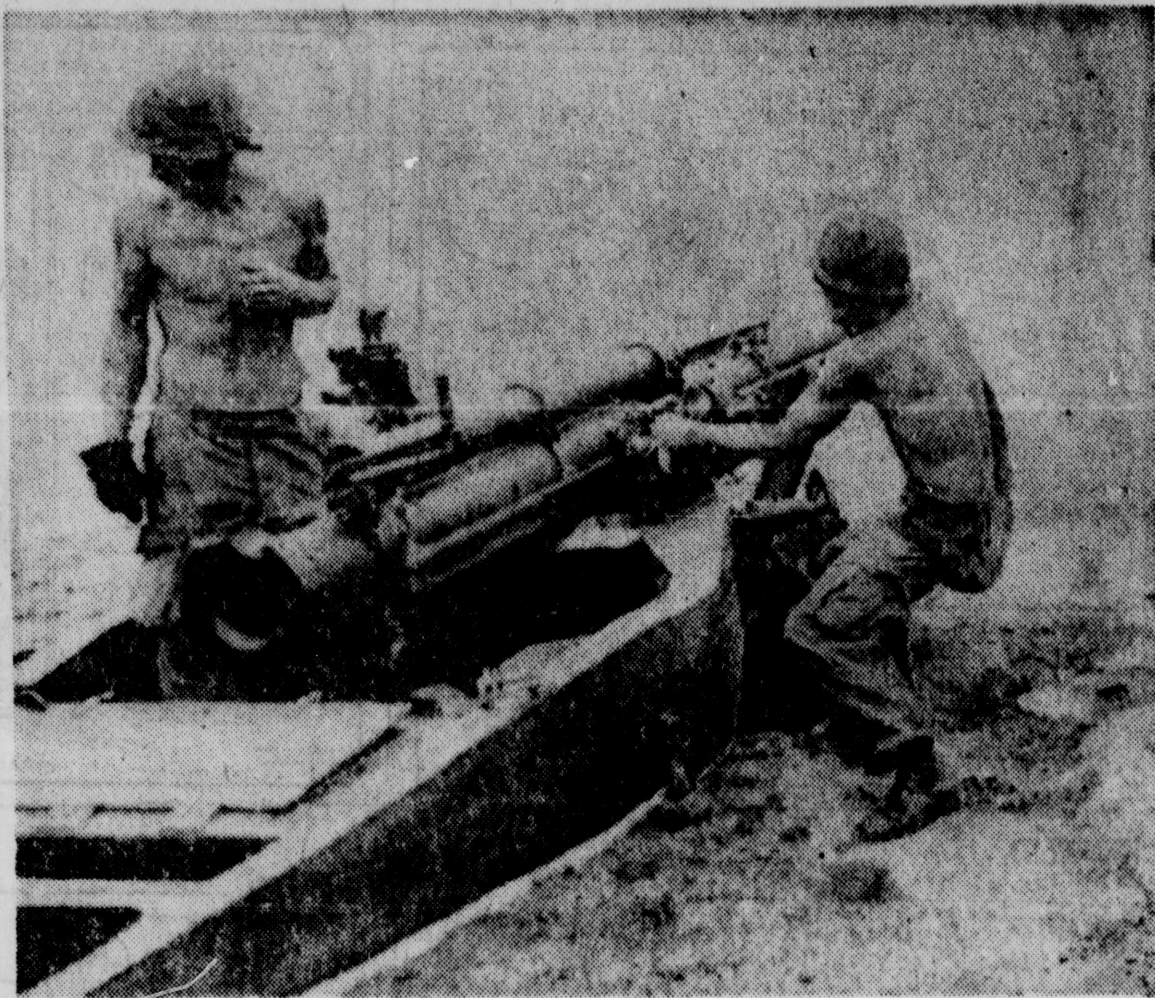

Navy planes armed with "Walleye" radar-guided bombs wrecked three bridges on key routes around Haiphong, North Vietnam's major port city.

A strike by carrier planes at the Hon Gai port facility 25 miles northeast of Haiphong left the target covered by smoke and marked by numerous explosions and a fireball that billowed up to 3,000 feet, pilots said.

Elements of the government paratroop force that fought the futile battle for the Quang Tri fortress Citadel moved south of the northernmost provincial capital and opened the highway there for the first time in more than a week, field reports said.

UPT reported Ted Kurrus said government paratroopers, many of them veterans of the bloody fighting for the stone Citadel, stopped a weekend Communist drive to cut the road and reopened it to normal traffic.

A government spokesman said the airborne soldiers killed 44 North Vietnamese in the fighting about halfway between Quang Tri and Hue, the old imperial capital 35 miles to the south.

McGovern to Propose Bill Cutting Military Spending

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Charging that military spending the last six years has been the "main cause of inflation," Sen. George S. McGovern said today he would introduce an amendment to keep the administration from increasing the Pentagon's budget.

The Democratic presidential candidate said the amendment, which he would introduce Tuesday, would hold military spending to the level of last year's $77.6 billion.

This would in effect cut $4 billion from President Nixon's request for military spending for the current fiscal year.

McGovern described his move as "the only proper response to the President's plea that federal spending be held to $250 billion this year." Nixon has criticized Congress for contributing to inflation by increasing government spending.

"Holding military expenditures to the present level will allow the Congress to keep within the spending ceiling and still provide some urgently needed support for schools, housing, hospitals, jobs and other domestic requirements," McGovern said he had made it clear repeatedly that he considered an arms budget identical to last year's to be "far in excess of what the country needs for its own security."

"But in a watershed election year, surely it is prudent to wait for the judgment of the people on the great debate between President Nixon and myself over the proper direction of military spending and the soundest budget priorities for the years ahead," McGovern said. "I ask Mr. Nixon and I ask the Congress: why not hold steady this year, and let the people be heard?"

"The main cause of inflation for the last half dozen years, under both the Republicans and the Democrats, has been military spending, and more particularly the Vietnam war," he said.

The Senate planned to recess today for the funeral of Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., but Tuesday it will resume its consideration of the $20.6 billion military procurement bill.

The Senate has scheduled a vote Thursday on an amendment to the procurement bill by Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., that would order withdrawal of all U.S. forces from Vietnam in four months subject to the release of American prisoners of war

Javits Praises Sen. Eagleton

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Republican Senator who vociferously urged President Nixon to dump Vice President Spiro T. Agnew from the GOP ticket this year says Agnew's opponent Democratic Sen. Thomas Eagleton is a "first rate senator" and says the controversy over the Democrat's health could lead to greater public awareness of the problems of mental illness.

In a broadcast interview Sunday Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-

N.Y., said if Eagleton remained on the ticket a test of public attitudes on mental illness might be the end result. Javits said the public should "accept and have confidence in any individual who doctors certify has been cured of emotional problems."

"I think we ought to have some faith in the modern therapies," the liberal Republican said.

Javits said if Eagleton is not dropped as the vice presidential nominee, "it may be a test of the American people on the question of mental illness," if he had any.

The question of whether Sen. George McGovern will retain Eagleton has been raised with the disclosure that Eagleton had undergone electric shock therapy, for treatment of depression and fatigue.

Concerning the forthcoming Republican National Convention, Javits, a leader of the GOP liberal wing, said events there might be a portent for control of the party in 1976.

He said the contending forces could be a generally conservative wing, of which Vice President Agnew is a member, and a progressive wing, with which the senator said he sympathized.

Having already committed himself to backing Nixon although expressing reservations over the vice president, Javits said he hoped Agnew will wage a constructive campaign.

Sweeping Busing Plan in Detroit

By RICHARD HUGHES. DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit schools desegregation panel today presented a sweeping and highly controversial busing and financing plan for integrating public schools in the city and 52 of its suburbs.

If carried out, 350,000 students would be bused across district and county lines to achieve a racial balance in more than 1,000 schools that now are either mostly white or mostly black.

A super "shadow" school district financial plan with money raised locally but doled out "equitably" by the state would be created for nearly 800,000 students—one-third of Michigan's entire school population.

Almost 50 per cent of the students would be bused to and from their schools in a transportation program involving more than 2,000 buses and costing an estimated $100 million a year.

The plan envisions a student population that would be 75 per cent white and 25 per cent black in the 1,010 schools in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties.

Detroit's school population overall is 65 per cent black, but most of the city's schools have a black population in excess of 90 per cent. Some outside area schools are almost 90 per cent white.

Because of court appeals, the panel does not expect to implement even an interim plan for some elementary grades this fall, but is looking toward partial integration in February, 1973, with "full and complete" integration by the fall of 1973.

In addition to busing of students, the panel proposes the transfer of black teachers from Detroit schools to the suburbs and white teachers from the suburbs to the city to achieve integrated staffs of about 25 per cent black to 75 per cent white.

The panel recommends the teacher transfer begin immediately but it's two teacher members, representing the Detroit Federation of Teachers and the Michigan Education Association, objected to having teachers moved before the children.

The 11-member desegregation panel was created June 14 by U.S. District Judge Stephen Roth to draw up a plan for integrating Detroit's schools by exchanging black children from the city with those of 52 more affluent—and nearly all white—suburban school districts.

Roth's original ruling in September, 1971, said the Detroit schools were segregated by official inaction of the state and the city. It is under appeal in the 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in Cincinnati. So in Roth's order to purchase 295 buses for an interim plan for some elementary grades this fall.

The finding of De Jure (by law) segregation and the bus purchase order are scheduled for a hearing by the Appellate Court Aug. 24. Because of the delays of litigation, the panel does not recommend implementation of the interim busing program for this fall.

IT'S GRAND UNION'S 1972 PRESIDENT'S SUPER SALE!

THE GREATEST

SALES EVENT EVER OFFERED TO OUR CUSTOMERS!

A MESSAGE
from
GRAND UNION'S PRESIDENT

Open Letter To Our Customers

Dear Customers:

It is with pleasure that I invite each one of our many customers in the areas of upstate New York, Vermont and Massachusetts served by the stores of our Empire Division to share in the celebration of Grand Union's eighth Annual "President's Sale" which begins July 30 and continues through August 12.

Through this two -- week sales event, we at Grand Union are thanking you -- our customers -- for the increasing patronage you have given our stores through the years. To show our appreciation, we offer exceptional bargains in every department of our stores.

Substantial savings will be yours on a wide variety of quality foods and general merchandise items. Be sure to visit us! We know that you will appreciate the especially low prices and extra stamps, and will enjoy the friendly, courteous service that is a tradition with the men and women who have made Empire the Company's largest single operating division.

Along with Ralph D. Lytle, Vice President of the Company in charge of the division, I will be visiting a number of stores during the sale. We hope to have an opportunity to greet many of you in person.

Sincerely,

Charles G. Rodman
